NATHAN CLIFFORD RICKER

Nathan Clifford Ricker, eldest child of General Ebenezer Ricker and Mary Stacy Ricker, was born in Acton, York County, Maine, on July 24, 1843. Born of that sturdy old New England stock which produces able men and courageous women, his careful training and natural aptitude for learning aided the development of an unusual interest in books. Any time that could be spared from the exacting duties of the operation and management of the farm, for while the father was attending the Maine Legislature the son must be manager, was spent in study. His primary education was obtained in the public schools of his native state.

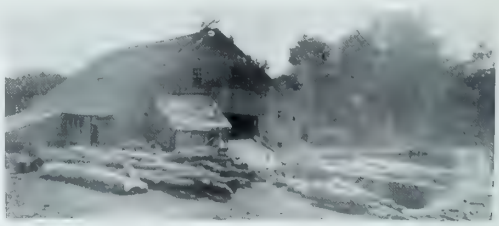

In accordance with the custom of those days, that all young men should learn a trade, he adopted that of a cabinet maker, and so assiduously did he apply himself and so rapidly did he acquire ability that in two years he was made a full journeyman. He proved his efficiency by making four piano cases in ten days when the usual workman made but two in seven days. For several years he taught school in the neighborhood of his home; then he accompanied his family, after the Civil War, to Virginia, where his father was to be a supervisor. From Virginia he went west to his uncle in Illinois.

The Old Homestead

At this time he became filled with a desire for higher education and by his own unaided efforts, in individual study for three years in Latin, French and the sciences, he prepared himself for college. This was not accomplished without difficulties, for books and apparatus were not abundant. He made, for example, his own botanical dissecting knife from the steel hoop of an old hoop-skirt. As a means of mental discipline, Colburn's Mental Arithmetic was employed, and so engrossed did the student become in the solution of puzzling problems that sometimes in driving his horse would stop stock still waiting patiently until his unheeding driver became conscious of the odd state of affairs.

He entered the University of Illinois in January, 1870, his careful and exhaustive preparation winning him advanced standing. His student life was one of activity, as membership in Philomathean Literary Society, presidency of the College government, and other positions indicate. His service was not circumscribed by college bounds, for he was a member of the student battalion which did guard duty for a week at the time of the Chicago fire in November, 1871. In spite of these activities which so often occupy a student's mind and time to the exclusion of the acquirement of knowledge, membership in Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Xi serve to indicate that his time was being put to excellent use. He graduated in Architecture three years after entrance into the

The Mill

University, afterwards going abroad to study at Bauacademie in Berlin, during the summer in the year 1873. After some months of travel in Europe, he returned to take up his life-work of teaching. Beginning with September, 1873, he assumed full charge of the department of Architecture at the University of Illinois, and retained it for thirty-seven years. His long period of service has permitted him to direct and aid in the development of the department from the time when he himself taught drafting in the same room that held a class of rhetoric, to the present, when the department fills an entire floor of Engineering Hall with offices, class rooms, drafting rooms, and above all, the magnificent architectural library, probably the best in the country, the selection of books for which he himself is responsible. In 1900 he received from the University the degree of Doctor of Architecture in appreciation of the ability, devotion and unselfishness in the development of his work. In addition to being head of the department of architecture he filled the position of Dean of the College of Engineering for twenty-seven years, from 1878 to 1905.

The Mill Dam

He was married to Mary Carter Steele on August 25, 1875.

His public service includes membership in the Illinois State Board of Examiners of Architects, of which board he has served as president since 1899. He is president of the recently appointed Commission to prepare a revision of the building laws of Illinois. Further he is an active and also an honorary Fellow member of the American Institute of Architects, Member of Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, Fellow of American Association for the Advancement of Science, etc.

Age 17

His First School

Notwithstanding the fact that his work as a professional instructor and as executive officer of the College of Engineering has left little leisure for the preparation of work for publication, he has written a book on Trussed Roofs, which appeared in 1885. Later there were published by the Engineering Experiment Station, three bulletins entitled respectively, "An Extension of the Dewey Decimal Classification to Architecture and Building," "A Study of Trussed Roofs," and "Base and Bearing Plates for Columns and Girders," which were the result of original investigations by Dr. Ricker, and which constitute distinct contributions to technical literature. Numerous professional papers and reviews have been published in various technical and architectural periodicals. An entirely new and authoritative treatise on roofs, which has been in careful preparation for years, will appear in 1912. Dr. Ricker has also contributed extensively to technical literature by translation into English from the German and French, including part of the works of Gaudet, the famous teacher of design at the Ecole des Beaux Arts.

Perhaps one of the most distinctive and significant of his contributions to engineering education was the introduction into American technical schools of the Science of Graphic Statics, the value and necessity of this important study being early recognized and appreciated by him. He was also instrumental in the introduction and furtherance of laboratory work in shop practice.

Old Friends

Sir Knight

This brief narrative does not propose to be a story of Dr. Ricker's life. It is merely a sketch to show how strong and resourceful is his character, how broad and varied his activities, The University of Illinois is his great debtor. To his Alma Mater, and to her development he has devoted the best of his life, and has brought renown to her, as well as to himself. He is universally beloved by all with whom he has been associated, colleagues, students, neighbors. Not one of the multitude who have come into his influence but has departed with a feeling of gratitude for the kindly smile, the warm greeting, and the sincere interest he has shown.

ALTHOUGH for many years the University of Illinois has offered advanced students facilities for study and research in various lines, the Graduate School as a separate department was organized in 1892. In 1894 the administration of the school was vested in the Council of Administration, and the Vice-President of the University became Dean of the School. In 1906 a separate faculty, consisting of a dean and members of the University faculty, was provided for. In 1906-07 the Forty-fifth General Assembly of the State passed an act appropriating $50,000 per annum for the support of the Graduate School. The School now has an enrollment of about two hundred and forty students, thirty of which receive their doctor's degree this year.

The work of the graduate students is vastly different from that of the undergraduates. Regularity of attendance, wide knowledge, and ability to meet examination tests are of secondary importance. The principal aim of graduate study is the development of the power of independent work and the promotion of the spirit of research. The class, lecture, or laboratory course is intended to present only the principles or theory of the subject and serve as a guide while the student is carrying out his own private reading and research.

Students are warned against restricting themselves merely to the prescribed courses. Each student is expected to do a wide range of private readings and study, even though he finds it necessary to go outside his chosen field to do so.

LOUIS E. FISCHER, '98

THE Alumni Association of the University of Illinois, heretofore of inconsequent importance in University affairs, has this year begun a revision of its constitution with the object of reorganizing its membership to assume a more active part in the improvement of its Alma Mater.

The president appointed, in the fall of 1911, a committee to affect this work of revision and reorganization. The alumni appointed were: S. A. Bullard, '78; G. R. Clark, '01; J. N. Chester, '91; T. A. Clark, '90; Ernest Ingold, '09; Peter Junkersfeld, '95; D. C. Ketchum, '99; W. E. King, '97; Geo. E. Pfisterer, '98; S. W. Parr, '84; F. J. Postel, '99; W. H. Rothgeb, '05; R. E. Schreiber, '04; C. E. Stone, '03; A. N. Talbot, '81; Miss Darley Thomas, '81; W. K. Yeakel, '95; W. Elmer Ekblaw, '10; and E. J. Mehren, '06.

Since the appointment of these alumni they have drafted a constitution reorganizing the association upon a new and more efficient basis, to take upon itself the task of fostering "the spirit of loyalty and fraternity among the graduates and former students of the University," and effecting "united action in prompting the welfare of the University." This constitution will be submitted to the alumni at their spring reunion, for their approval and adoption.

The alumni are in earnest. They intend to have a share in the development of this great institution which they love and venerate as their Alma Mater. No selfish purpose is theirs, no ulterior motive their guide. In the fraternal spirit of Illinois Loyalty they hope to work harmoniously with each other and with the friends of the University for the glory of "Old Illinois."

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

IN the pellucid autumn of 1908 the omnipotent class of 1912 aroused the old University from a nap that she has since not been given a chance to resume. Though there have been other classes on our campus, for all the noise they made they might as well have been running a co-operative dental parlor in a poultry yard.

Just briefly to lay before you a few of the accomplishments of old Twelve, let us pause a moment for reflection. In 1908, Lincoln Hall, the Physics Building, the Natural History annex were asleep in the deep. The Library loan desk was then about the size of a Campbellite pulpit—only one or two souls could be waited upon at a time. Prexy and Thommy sported little two by four offices in the garret, while the card catalogue was about the size of a family medicine chest.

Such then in part were the disgusting conditions that leered at the class of 1912, when its noble members girded up their loins and resolved to show what high minded energy could do. Faltered they one moment at the gloomy prospect before them? Ah no. Believed they deep down in their palpitating bosoms that success would be theirs? Ah, yes.

Behold the fruition of the carefully nurtured seedling, Do or Die. After four years of "Twelve" administration gaze upon a Lincoln Hall, with its magnificent seminars, its marble stairway, its wonderful elevator and cloistered halls, and its luxuriant rest room for the professors. Could you conjure up a more fitting memorial for a class to leave? But old Twelve could not think of stopping with this.

Turn to the north and consider the new Physics Building, with its conscience-stricken professors singing lullabys to the delicate instruments. This handsome, myriad-windowed edifice was reared, moistened by the laborious perspiration from many tortured brows, amid the encouraging plaudits of the renowned class of 1912.

And then to set the stars in old Twelve's crown before the sun goeth down, stand before the gorgeous senior memorial, erected in the fragrant and hyacinthine center of the renowned peach orchard, and venture to squeak that old Twelve has not left behind her the most magnificent fussing settee that has ever been permitted to feel the heavenly sunshine of satisfaction.

What more, then, need we say? Simply this: "Well done good and faithful servants of old Twelve."

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

SOME say "13" is a hoodoo, but do not allow them to deceive you. In reality "13" is a lucky charm, a talisman which protects and leads to success all those who come within its powerful hypnotic influence. The class of '13 has even been guided by that talisman; hence our success in accomplishing everything we have set out to do.

To be sure, our greatness is not of the spectacular kind recognized by the world at large, but ever since we were freshmen, our spirit has been that of kindness and charity toward all. Not a class in the institution but has felt the effect of our altruism, and profited thereby. Realizing that it is greater to given than to receive, we began our career of good will by letting the class of '12 win from us in pushball. In fact we like that class so well that we again befriended them by giving them the championship in football.

As "sophs" we extended our sympathetic charity to the yearlings of '14 and allowed them to gain the pushball title. This leaves only the freshmen of '15 whom we have always generously protected from their enemies, especially at such times as the night of th freshman "Stag."

We are indeed a noble-hearted, generous class. No one can gain-say it. We could have won these titles if we had wished to. We have the stuff. Just look at our championship baseball team of last spring; they delivered the goods. Call to mind our championship track team of last fall; they showed their mettle. Recall our championship basketball team of last winter; they proved their worth.

But while for the sake of charity it has usually been our policy to please other classes by giving them the palms, in non-competitive life, in the social realm, we have always occupied the foreground. Who can say that the unqualified success of our Prom and Smoker has ever been approached except by our own Cotillion and our own Sophomore Stag?

There's nothing so becomes a man as modest stillness and hummility—HERBIE HEDMAN, Σ N

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

"Fortune and victory sit on thy helm"—SHAKESPEARE

WHO can declare the triumphs of '14, and by whom can her glory be told? Her name has gone out through the earth and her deeds to the end of the world. Fortune and victory are in her right hand, and in her left hand honor and integrity. All glory to '14.

Oh that some Homer might rise to sing the glories of our class! Shall not we, who have been crowned with the wreath of victory and of whom the sting of defeat is not known, rejoice? Fortune, herself, smiles with content upon her favored child.

Behold from last year our history as Freshmen. Did we, shrinking in terror, succumb to the haughty Sophomores, like unto those who came before us? Nay, but rising in righteous indignation from out the icy Boneyard, we smote them hip and thigh. And likewise in other paths was our prowess made known to the University.

Nor in the history of the second was our fame abated. Even as the avenger in a conquering chariot who knows not fear of his enemies, so did we chastize the rebellious Freshmen. None could stay our progress. The proud Juniors, and the most high Seniors, did they not quail before our heroes?

Mighty were our deeds and the glory thereof.

Who is like unto you, oh '14, in all the University? Who is like unto you, doing wonders and crowned with glory? Sing ye to '14 for she has triumphed gloriously.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

THE fall of 1912 opened with the eyes of a mighty and hopeful commonwealth focused upon the rising youth of our great University. At this crucial moment, at this time of concentrated suspense, the class of 1915 appeared upon the scene. The world staggered, the community endured and the long suffering faculty smiled a sickly grim antagonizing patience. Nature, slowly recovering from the shock, regained her equilibrium, and the morning and the evening were the first day.

The concentrated energy of a fiend, malevolent and omniscient, could devise no punishment more torturuous than the tantalizing suspense of the ill-starred Freshmen. But the assiduous, merciless class of '14 did not allow the newcomers to remain long in gloomy expectations. The dreadful "October Days," the modern "Reign of Terror," approached with the sure, uncompromising swiftness of the guillotine.

The curly auburn locks of many a blushing yearling, the pride of a fond and doting mother, succumbed to the heartless blade of the eager sophomore. Like the Ganges of India, the pure and crystal Boneyard grew slimy and polluted with the gangrenous carcasses of ambitious freshmen. Finally the storm passes by, the shears were donated to the bacteriology laboratory, and the plodding Boneyard again wearily entered upon its annual track of purification. The struggle for existence had begun; October 20 was to determine the survival of the fittest.

The battle was cruel and merciless. The freshmen fought with a courage born of despair, but nothing could resist the slow uncompromising advance of the sophomore machine. The very life blood was crushed out of the luckless yearlings, and transformed into a dense uncanny steam by the intense heat of friction. "And in those days," prophesied the Good Book, "shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them." That night a dank, dark vapor hung over the field of battle, muffling the shrieks of the dead and dying. The sophomores had triumphed 10 to 0, leaving behind them a crimson trail of desolation and woe. It was truly the survival of the fittest.

From the remnants of the unsophisticated mob of budding youth was moulded an organization worthy of the name of Illinois. The dross had been consumed, and the gold refined. Upon the backs of this class do we place the confidence of a true and loyal University. In them we place our trust.

Vive la '15.

FOOT-BALL

1911 FOOTBALL REVIEW

T the close of the 1910 football season, Illinois, Minnesota, and Michigan were conceded equal claimants for the championship of the West. After the wonderful record achieved by the Orange and Blue during that season no less a title than that of champions in 1911 was confidently expected by the rooters. Their fond dreams were not to be realized, however, for instead of laying claim to the first place, Illinois must after the season's battles have been fought, be content with fourth place in the Conference.

Only four men had been lost by graduation and a large number of veterans were on hand. The 1910 "I" men to return were Captain Roberts, Springe, Belting, Wham, Oliver, Seiler, Merriman, Dillon, Woolston, Lanum and Davis. Other capable material was found in Hall, Paul Belting, Prince, Thompson, Watson, Carter and Tillson, among a squad of about fifty. Prospects were bright but the run of ill luck which was to pursue the team throughout the season soon set in. Wham, a tackle on the 1910 team, accepted a position as instructor in the faculty, and Lanum, who showed great promise of developing into a lineman, was thrown out of the game for the season by a broken ankle. The loss of these men was rather serious in that Captain Butzer and Twist of the 1910 team, had by graduation left a big hole to fill in the front row.

The season opened on Illinois Field, October 7, when Millikin appeared. The Decatur team was easily defeated 3 1to 0, and although not marked by any brilliancy the play of the Illini was such as to encourage the rooters in their hopes for a championship team. On October 14 the St. Louis University was met and defeated by a score of 9 to 0.

The team was given a final grooming for the Chicago game which was played on Marshall Field October 21. Before three thousand loyal Illinois rooters the Illini warriors, fighting to the last, on a field resembling a sea of mud, and in the midst of a driving rain, went down in defeat by a score of 24 to 0.

Before the student body could recover from this shock the hoodoo again appeared, this time disabling Seiler and Merriman, both veteran quarterbacks, within a week. Purdue was next on the schedule and on November 4 were taken into camp by a 12 to 3 score. "Swede" Hall played the quarterback position, ably taking the place of the crippled veterans. The gloom was dispelled and again hopes arose. The following Saturday the team went to Indianapolis and met the Hoosiers. The battle ended in a 0 to 0 score. In this contest Oliver, the team's star end was seriously injured. On November 18 Northwestern came to Illinois Field. The Purple and White started with a rush but Illinois came back strong and in a contest filled with exciting plays won 27 to 13.

One more game remained, that with Minnesota. The giant Swedes came with a wonderful record and every effort was made by the Illinois coaches to fit their men for a gruelling battle. On November 25 the game took place on Illinois Field before a crowd of thousands of students augmented by a great number of alumni who had returned for the annual Home-coming. In the fiercest battle of the year the Illini went down in defeat before superior weight by a score of 11 to 0. Though the result was a defeat, the gallant fight made by the Orange and Blue filled every rooter with pride.

The Minnesota game was the last for Captain Roberts, Hall, Seiler, Henry Belting, Prince, Davis, Merriman, Paul Belting, Thompson, Springe, Watson, Dillon and Oliver. These veterans have distinguished themselves on many a field and their loss will be keenly felt. Captain-elect Woolston, Rowe, and Carter are the "I" men who will return and they will form a powerful though small nucleus for the 1912 team.

The 1911 football season at Illinois was not a success from the viewpoint of the ordinary observer. Dame Fortune played a big part in blasting the hopes for a championship team. However, a greater victory than that of winning games was achieved: in the face of defeat and misfortune players and students rallied nobly and put up so game a fight that they are deserving only of the highest praise. The 1911 team will always be known as a clean, game, gritty team of fighters.

THE TEAM

LINDGREN (Coach) WATSON RUDDERHAM (Trainer) SPRINGE BAUR (Manager) THOMPSON
WOOLSTON CARTER ROWE PRINCE HALL PAUL BELTING HALL (Coach)
DILLON MERRIMAN SEILER ROBERTS (Capt.) OLIVER H. BELTING DAVIS

CHESTER CORWIN ROBERTS

In Captain "Bull" Roberts the team found a leader of wonderful versatility in the new game and of consistent ability in the old line smashing plays. He was also gifted with the power of encouraging his men when things looked the darkest, thereby often successfully holding the opposing line and turning defeat into victory.

Although handicapped by injuries in the early part of the season "Bull" played for the Orange and Blue in the later contests, and especially the one with Minnesota, with as much "pep" as he had exhibited at half back during his two previous seasons.

OTTO SPRINGE

"Ott" Springe was found to possess all the requisites of an excellent football tackle. He had plenty of weight, distributed over a rangy frame, strength for a hard, sure throw, dogged determination, and in addition a football head. Last year was "Red's" best. Few gains were made through his territory. He not only was a dangerous man to a line plunger but he looked the part and his very aggressive attitude caused the opposing leader to try out his other plays before attempting a plunge through tackle. Springe was in the game hard every minute of the time and whether on defense or offense his presence was always felt.

JOHN RILEY MERRIMAN

"Merrie" came in for his share of the season's hard luck. His shoulder blade was broken early in the season and resulted in his being kept on the side lines for the rest of the year. It was his last year of football for Illinois and his spectacular broken field running, his quick execution of quarter back plays, and his good judgment as a field general are now things of history in the annals of Orange and Blue football, but they will not soon be forgotten by those who have seen him in fighting trim.

Say, now really does everyone have to cry at the Senior Bawl?—C. K. White

OTTO EDWIN SEILER

The Hoodoo seemed bound to eliminate every available quarter-back for soon after "Merrie" met with his accident Otto Seiler was laid up with a similar injury. This was one of the worst calamities that could have befallen the team at the time for Otto's wonderful success at drop kicking of the season previous had caused the Illini to rely upon him to register many of their points in this year's contests. It is not too much to say that had Otto been in condition during the entire season Illinois would have had a larger total score for the year.

CHAUNCEY BRISTOL OLIVER

Another of the twelve seniors who appeared on the gridiron for the last time in the Minnesota game was "Chink" Oliver, one of the finest ends ever developed at Illinois. His first season he played at tackle with great credit, but because of his speed he was shifted to end where he even surpassed all the predictions that were made concerning him.

"Ollie" shone at going down under punts, and it was no uncommon thing to find him down the field ahead of the ball ready to down the runner in his tracks. The trickey forward pass was handled effectively by Oliver and he was also a good punter.

CHESTER CHARLES DILLON

It has been the concensus of opinion that "Chet" Dillon's quick dodging and twisting through a broken field, his speedy runs around end, and his heady work in critical moments combined to make him the most spectacular player of the year. Although one of the lightest men on the team he held the position of halfback throughout the season, making up for his lack of weight by his speed and courage. Through Dillon's graduation in June the Orange and Blue will lose one of the most aggressive backfield men she has had in many years.

They agree like University clocks—A T Ω and Φ Γ Δ

ALBERT LEANDER HALL

After the injuries to Seiler and Merriman, "Swede" Hall was shifted from his position at end and placed at quarter. He took to his new place well and before the close of the season was regarded by the Illini as a star of the first magnitude. His mastery of the forward pass was exceptionally spectacular and resulted in many substantial gains. But in addition to the spectacular part "Hallie" was an excellent field general and used the best of judgment in selecting his plays. His punting was intelligent and it is to be regretted that he had but one year of varsity football.

WILLIAM HENRY WOOLSTON

"Woolie" is probably the best line-plunging fullback Illinois has ever had on her team, and his consistency and grit have been essential factors in winning many of two seasons' games. "Bill" can also play the positions of end or quarterback very acceptably which fact made him even more valuable to the team. Not only was Woolston a good player but he was popular with his team mates as was evidenced by his being chosen leader of next year's eleven. If unshaken determination counts for anything "Bill" ought to be the leader of a victorious team next fall.

CHARLES HENRY BELTING

Henry Belting was one of the Illinois men to be ranked on the All-Western. The honor was given him not because of spectacular play but because of his hard, consistent plugging. His ability was shown both on the offense and defense. Many times he was used in carrying the ball and his gains were usually substantial. At goal or place kicking he had few equals in the West and he could always be counted on to register his one point after every touchdown. But it was probably because of his defensive ability that he was chosen on the All-Western. He fought with determination for every inch of ground as though the result of the game depended upon it.

Take her up tendendy, lift her with care; fashioned so slenderly, young and so fair—
KATHARINE BLANK, K Θ A

CHESTER WATSON DAVIS

"Hop" Davis, playing at center, was a valuable asset to the team because of his complete knowledge of that important position, his accuracy in passing the ball, and because of his consistent defensive work throughout the entire season. He had great endurance powers and was very speedy as was evidenced by his many recoveries of fumbles. Davis' three years on the varsity squad were three years of hard and conscientious work for the best interests of the team and every Illini was very glad to see "Hop" win a regular position.

DAVID CHANDLER PRINCE

Before becoming a tackle on the varsity last fall Prince had played on the Michigan freshman and on the Illinois freshman teams. This experience gave him many of the qualities of a veteran and enabled him to show at his best from the very beginning of the season. He could play any line position creditably so that whenever a shift was necessary Prince was the man to change. He played a hard, steady game and was always "on the job." It is to be regretted that he had only one year on the varsity and his absence will be felt keenly on next season's team.

PAUL BELTING

It is a rare thing to find brothers filling regular positions on the Illinois team at the same time. Such was the case last fall, however, when the Belting brothers held down the two guard positions for the entire season. Paul was considerably lighter than Henry but made up for his lack of weight by his speed and aggressiveness. He was a good place kicker and was called on to test his ability at several different times. He entered the University a Junior, so he too had but one year on the varsity team. He was a steady and experienced player and his presence in the line added strength to the team.

All great men are dead and dying, and I don't feel well myself—JULEP GOEBEL

DONALD HUME CARTER

Don Carter obtained his football experience in Champaign High School. That his training was thorough was evidenced by his first year's work on the varsity. He exhibited a complete knowledge of the game and also proved to be a hard fighter. Early in the season Carter was placed at tackle where he played a very efficient game but it was not until he was given a chance at end that he showed his true worth. In the Minnesota contest especially his playing was spectacular and was the cause of much comment and many predictions as to what might be expected of him during his next two years.

GEORGE JAMES LANE

Lane was not fortunate enough to get into a full game and so was not awarded an "I," although he broke into the game at several times and was a valuable sub. He was a fair lineman but seemed more at home at end. This year's experience should be of considerable aid to Lane and he will undoubtedly be one of the regulars on next year's squad.

ENOS MARION ROWE

Anyone who was familiar with Rowe's work on the freshman team was not surprised to see his advance to the varsity as soon as elegibility rules permitted. Rowe was a spectacular line-plunger and also shone at smashing interference. From all indications much may be expected of him during the next two seasons. His one year's experience on a team of veterans ought to prove valuable to him and to the teams which are to profit by it during the next two years.

"Herbie" Hedman, senior, inquiring at library desk, "How do you get psychology books out of here?"

HERBERT PERCY THOMPSON

"Tommie" is equally proficient at guard and tackle and his work in the latter position in the Minnesota game was especially worthy of praise. He had a hard part to play against the "beefy" opposing tackle but, through sheer pluck and determination he was able to withstand the Gopher's attack. From all indications next year "Tommie" will be a regular.

CHAUNCEY BROWN WATSON

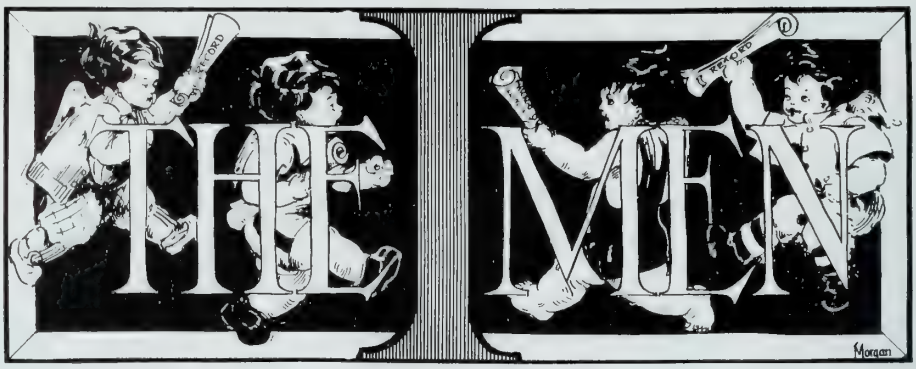

Watson had considerable experience in water polo before he made the football team and this experience was no doubt of considerable value to him in several ways. He played tackle and guard with a steady effectiveness that helps to win games. Watson was quick and heady and also had his share of pluck and grit. He has another season with the team which, if dope is worth while, should be his crowning one.

HAROLD LUTHER TILLSON

Tillson, who was the star half on the freshman team of 1910, was another of the Illini who suffered bad luck. He was kept out of the game most of the season with a bum knee. The injury, however, was nothing permanent and the rooters hope to see "Tillie" in the lime light during the next season.

REVIEW OF 1911 TRACK SEASON

THE 1911 Outdoor Track season started off with a victory over Purdue to the score of 69½ to 47½ on May 6th. Purdue was strong in the dashes, and hurdles, and also won the mile but Illinois got away with nine firsts.

A week later we repeated by beating Chicago on their own field by the good score of 71½ to 54½. Davenport starred for the Maroons winning the 220, 880, and second in the 100. E. Drake tied the Illinois record of 25 3-5 sec. in the 220 hurdles and Graham won the pole vault at 12 feet.

The next Saturday before the Interscholastic crowd Illinois won a close meet from Wisconsin. Both teams were well balanced. Each team won seven firsts but Illinois won the relay and got a few more seconds and thirds. The Freshmen beat Knox badly at the same time.

On May 27 the freshmen snowed under the Chicago freshmen 76 to 28.

We were among those surprised by Missouri in the conference at Minneapolis, but several of our men won good places.

The 1912 indoor season started with a one-sided exhibition in which we beat Purdue 70 to 16. Carelessness in the mile which caused all our men to fall gave Purdue one of their two firsts.

In our two meets with Chicago we beat them almost as badly on their own floor as we did here in spite of the fact that Murphy and Case were unable to compete up there. In the home meet the Relay team composed of Burke, Hunter, Wilson, and Cortis clipped two full seconds off the gymnasium record placing it at 2:46. The freshmen also won by large scores.

It was in the Indoor Conference at the Patten Gymansium in Evanston on March 30 that the team covered itself with glory. The greatest race of the season was Sander's victory over the supposedly invincible Davenport of Chicago. This made up for previous disappointments in the mile and two mile and set a new indoor record of :52 3-5 sec. With nothing left but the relay the score stood 27 to 26 in favor of Wisconsin with Northwestern third and Chicago fourth.

The down upon their lips lay like a shadow of a hovering kiss—SENIOR LAWS

SENIOR TRACK MEN

NINE seniors will have run their last race for Illinois by the night of June first. The Conference meet takes place on that date at Lafayette, Ind., closing the present season. Captain Frank D. Murphy leads the list. "Murph" won the pole vault against Chicago in the first meet of his sophomore year and has been repeating it pretty consistently ever since. He holds the outdoor conference record of 12 feet 4 ¼ inches and in the Philadelphia meet last year he tied for first at 12 feet 5½ inches. He shows by his work in the 1912 indoor meets that he himself will break these records if anyone does.

Otto Seiler, veteran of many meets as well as many football games also leaves the team this year. He has been a very reliable sprinter ever since his sophomore year, often winning and always running a good race.

O. E. Seiler

Guy L. Morríll is the third man who has won his "I" three years in succession on the track team. He has rarely missed placing in a high jump during these three seasons and has a large number of firsts to his credit. His loss will be felt next year.

F. D. Murphy

Charles H. Belting in addition to his football fame has an enviable reputation in the weight events. His favorite is the hammer throw, in which event he placed second in the 1911 Conference. He also stars in the discus and shot with which he has won many points.

H. Belting

Another weight man is Herbert T. Leo. His specialty is the shot which he has heaved for many first places in dual meets.

Although this year has been his first and will be his last of Varsity competition, Howard Cheney has already shown his ability as a point winner in the indoor meets. He won his "I" in his second meet.

In addition to these six "I" men there are three others, Gregory Vigeant in the half mile and F. F. Hislop and R. W. Dickenson in the two mile. These men have won points in the indoor meets and should all win their letters before the season is over.

INTERSCHOLASTIC

The 20th Illinois Interscholastic Meet

DESPITE the bad weather during that week and the fact that a hard rain drenched the crowd towards the end of the meet, the 1911 Interscholastic lived up to its high reputation and was a success in every way. Five hundred athletes from approximately eighty schools kept the officials busy from 9:00 a. m. till after 1. p. m. Most of the marks made were fair, and a new record was made in the mile. A new event this year was the 120-yard high hurdles and from the number of entries is sure to be a feature in succeeding meets of this class.

University High took first place for the third time in succession, with 23 points. Hyde Park finished second with 18½ points; Oak Park was third with 17 points, and Lane Tech. captured 16 points. These four schools furnished the closest competition for first honors and the others divided up what was left. The lowest score was one-half of a point.

Loomis of University High was the individual star of the meet, scoring 13 of the 23 points won by his team. Noonan of Decatur set a new record when he ran the mile in 4 minutes, 37 1-5 seconds. Schobinger of Harvard School, ran the 120-high hurdles in 16 seconds flat.

BASE BALL 1911

BASEBALL REVIEW

HEN Hugh Fullerton, the Tribune baseball expert, was asked to make a prediction as to who would win the championship of the big league last year, he is said to have remarked: "Well at this early date I could hardly make a choice but I'll tell you what I will predict and that is that "G" Huff's Illini will win the Western Conference Championship." That "G" was entirely deserving of the confidence here expressed we have now had occasion to realize. Never in the history of Illinois had the makeup of the team been more uncertain than when spring practice began. There was the task of developing a pitcher to hold down the position vacated by the old reliable John Busick. The other half of the battery also presented a problem for word was received that Captain-elect "Fatty" Huff would be unable to return. Three veterans were lost to the infield by graduation. "Can 'G' step into this breach and develop a championship team from raw material?" was on the lips of every Orange and Blue rooter.

When the call for candiates was issued there was a noble response. Every man who felt he had the least degree of baseball ability reported for practice. Besides the regulars many of the stars of the '10 freshmen team were on hand and also several who had been kept off previous teams because of ineligibility. Soon it became evident that there was plenty of good material. Toward the end of March the weather became suitable for out-door work. Milwaukee came for their annual practice series and the rooters soon found that the team made as good a showing against the leaguers as did our 1910 1000 per cent team.

At Easter time the team was taken to the University of Arkansas for a series of three games. They dropped one of these to the tune of 3 to 2 entirely because of hard luck in fielding. About this time Illinois hopes received a severe blow by the announcement that Smejkal, the sensational infielder, was declared ineligible because of professionalism. Later the hoodoo manifested itself again when Prindiville, who gave great promise as a slab artist, suffered the same charge. These misfortunes only served to make the rest of the team work harder and their labors were amply repaid by their being adjudged from point of record the third best team that ever represented the Orange and Blue. In the history of the University there have been two teams which have gone through the Conference season without a defeat. The '11 team missed "Bogey" only by slipping up in the next to the last game of the season played at Purdue. Fifteen Conference games were played and fourteen of them were victories.

"The country and people of New England are poor and rocky"—DEAN GREENE

From a fielding standpoint the work of the team was not sensational. Many remarkable plays were made on the hardest kind of chances; at times the play was somewhat ragged and erratic. At the bat, however, Illinois excelled any other Conference team by long odds. Every man on the squad was a dangerous hitter and took a hard, healthy swing at the ball. Long hits were almost as common as singles. On the bases the players were alive and used good judgment. The pitching was gilt-edged and pulled the team out of many tight situations resulting from slips in fielding. As has always been the case with Illinois baseball teams the play and knowledge of the finer points of the game were manifested in every move of every player and gave better tribute to the ability and sincerity of "G" than any words of praise that might be bestowed upon him in the Baseball Review of the season of 1911.

If all the world was apple pie, and all the sea was ink,
And all the trees were bread and cheese, what should we have for drink?"—Σ N's

RAYMOND ROGERS THOMAS

"Shorty" Thomas, captain of the Illinois Conference Champions proved himself worthy of the honor in every respect. He was without doubt the fastest fielder in the Conference. His base stealing was the feature of his play, and was the means of many of the teams runs. "Shorty" is a sure fielder and covers worlds of territory. He was one of the best waiters on the team, and was given many free transportations, which coupled with his speed, made him a much feared man on the bases. He has one more year of varsity ball and the coming season should prove him one of the Illini's most valuable men.

CLAUDE VAN GUNDY

"Van's" most valuable asset was his versatility. When he was chosen as utility man for the All-Western there was not an Orange and Blue rooter but felt satisfied that he deserved the honor. As a pitcher "Van" could deliver the goods whenever called upon. He was one of the best exponents of curved ball pitching in the Conference and did excellent work in every game in which he partook. As an outfielder he was fast and sure. Throughout the season he was a clean consistent hitter. Any infield position he could fill creditably although "G" found little use for him there. On the bases "Van" was right at home and he combined the rare faculty of being able to worry the pitcher and at the same time use good judgment as to the proper time to steal. He plays his last year with the 1912 team of which he is captain.

HARRY EDWIN WEBER

Harry Weber was one of the bright lights on the 1911 team. He played with his old time accuracy and sureness and was always depended upon to start a batting rally or check one of our opponents by some spectacular stop or catch. His fielding was his feature and once a grounder was started his way it was a sure out with his fast whip to first. He filled the shortstop position as a veteran should and our past success was due largely to his steady and consistent playing. Much is expected of Harry throughout the 1912 season which will be his last collegiate baseball.

Took horticulture and learned to graft—MAY PARKHURST

GLEN DOUGLAS BUTZER

Glen D. Butzer, the veteran outfielder of the Illini team played his last year of university baseball in sensational form. His work in left field was of the same steady nature which marked his previous year's work on the varsity. Butzer's batting was a feature of almost every game and did much toward Illini aggregation at the Conference head. It was his timely hit in the tenth inning of the Illinois-Chicago game that saved the Orange and Blue from a defeat at the hands of the Maroons. He led the team in batting with an average of .350. All told, Butzer was one of the most valuable fielders in the "Big 8."

CLARENCE TWIST

"Clary" Twist is an example of a ball player with the natural ability. He was a good fielder with good judgment of a fly but with none too many opportunities to display it. As a batter he hit the ball hard and true but never seemed favored by luck. A sure home run would hit the ground only a few feet foul. With a fair trial and a little luck Clarence would make a ball player that the Orange and Blue would be proud of. He has played his last on Illinois Field.

HERBERT FRED KEMMAN

The full appreciation of what Kemman did for the Illini baseball team in the spring of 1911 cannot be written. The tall pitcher easily and thoroughly filled the place left to look so threatening by the graduation of John Busick. The college pitcher most often gets the credit for titles won and to the Illini whirler of last spring a major part of this honor belongs. It must be remembered too that Kemman did not have the advantage of years training on the varsity, but his was the natural kind of baseball, discovered only through transcendant performances on the class teams. In metropolitan sporting columns they would call him a find. He has still another year to play.

Why shouldn't the Pi Phis be popular? Didn't they provide for the dizzy refreshments at the Pan Hell formal?

FRANK JOSEPH NAPRSTEK

When Roger Huff left the varsity and the fans began to wonder where they could place their hands on a man to fill the back-stop position. A cool level headed man was needed with a thorough knowledge of the game, and "Nap" stepped into that place and handled it most efficiently. His recovery from wild throws was speedy and he had a wing to the second sack that was fatal. Many well earned steals have been snatched from runners by his accurate and speedy throws. Few runners ever got to first when a bunt was in his territory. Although he was the smallest player in the Conference his playing average ranked him among the top notchers at the end of the season. Illinois will have little to fear in the future if the respective positions are filled as efficiently as was the back-stop for the 1911 season. "Shrimp" has two years yet to play.

GEORGE ARTHUR KEMPF

"Dutch" Kempf was one of the surprises or finds of the year. After displaying good work as a Freshman he stepped into a regular berth at third base and played it like a major leaguer. His method of tagging base-runners was one of the classiest plays seen on Illinois Field last year. He is quick on his feet and his pegs are accurate and fast. As a batter he was feared by all opposing teams because of his cool attitude at the plate and his long hits at the right time. His home run in the Chicago game will long be remebered. We are sure of the leading third baseman of the Conference during the two remaining years which he has to play.

CURTIS ROY LIGHT

"Nig" Light was one of the members of the star Freshman team of '10 who early in the season showed promise of varsity caliber. Eventually he was chosen to shoulder the responsibility of filling "Shorty" Righter's position, the key-stone sack, and before the schedule was over he proved himself a very able successor to the Suanemin veteran. "Nig" was unfortunate from his own but fortunate from the team's standpoint in that he played his best games away from home. He was a clever fielder and possessed an underhand to first that caused the downfall of more than one aspiring hitter. His hitting, though at times erratic, was on the whole hard and timely. He has two years yet to play.

"But could it bear the shock, of rational discussion—SEILER'S BASEBALL ARGUMENT

CLAUDE HARRISON WATTS

"Lefty" Watts, the diminutive first sacker was a finished ball player and well schooled in the intricate points of first base tactics. He was able to overcome the handicap of a small stature by the ease and certainty with which he handled thrown balls. His South-paw peg enabled him to heave the pill across the diamond without twisting himself into the awkward and uncertain postures necessary for a right-handed first baseman. "Lefty" was in the game from beginning to end and was one of the most earnest and hard working men on the team. He batted left handed and usually met the ball squarely on the nose. He had more than his share in clouting hard drives into the mits of waiting fielders, making his average for the season only mediocre for the season. This however is not a fair indication of his ability as a hitter and player as his should demonstrate during his remaining two years of play.

EDWARD WALLACE

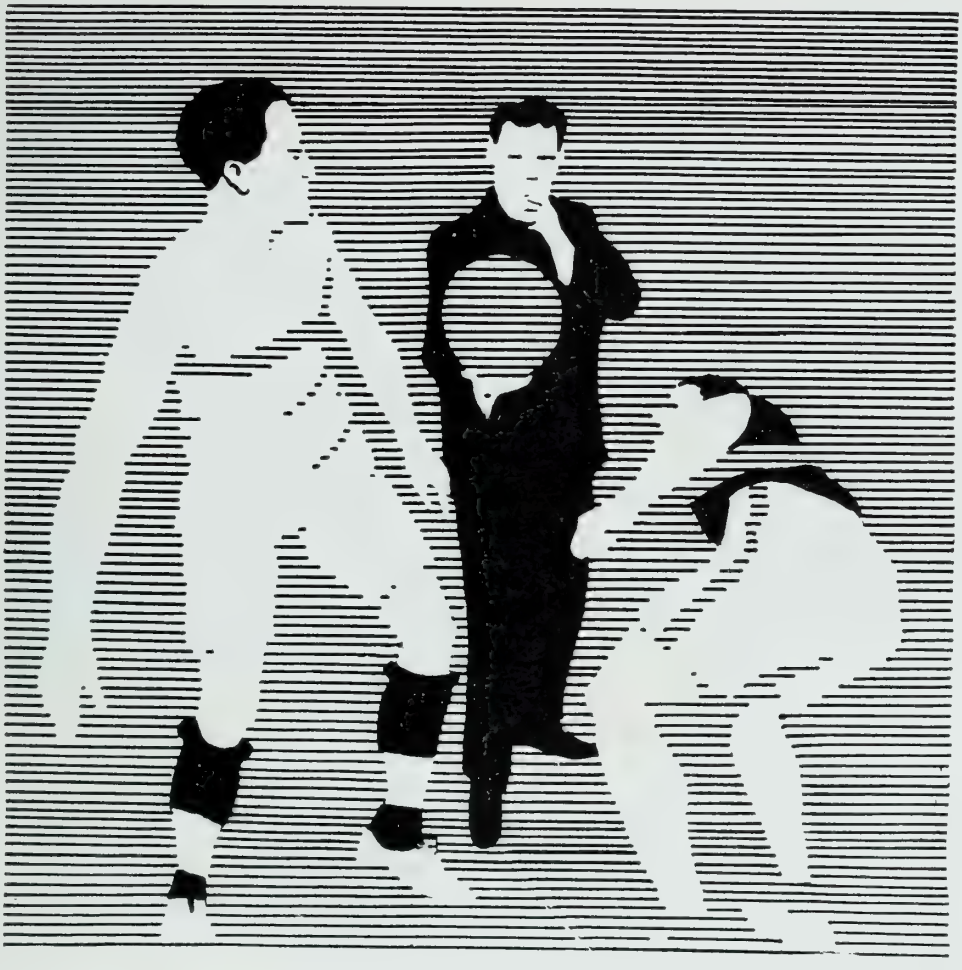

A utility man is as necessary to a team as any one of the regular players. So was Eddie Wallace to last spring's team. He was a filler-in-sort of a lad —to hit, to run and to field—all of which was his particular forte in a pinch. Players like Wallace are indispensable to any team, too light to stand the continued gaff, to eratic to act in every scene. However they make excellent understudies and in the movements that they actually perform they often outblazen the man who gives way. We want more of Eddies caliber, men with ginger and ambition. He is the kind of player that gets out the good to the full, the kind that gives every thing he has, the kind that is useless after the game is over, but never falters once while wearing the harness. We will hear more from him before his two remaining years are finished.

Rascher, Fletcher, and Laing, although they did not make a permanent position on the Varsity, were instrumental in making the men, who were holding the respective positions for which these men were trying, keep on their toes and put forth their utmost. Of these men, Fletcher had the greatest opportunity of showing his real caliber. His recovery of the ball on bad throws was quick and his wing to the second sack was unerring thus cheating a number of fast runners and good sliders out of a well earned steal. Rascher and Laing were both fast in the outfield and were especially good in covering territory.

AQVATICS

The swimming and water polo teams finished the season of 1911 with a rush. By winning the Conference swimming meet held at Patten Gymnasium, March 10, 1911 the Illini secured the Western Championship. This was due largely to W. R. Vosburgh the Sophomore star who won 16 of the 30 points. On the same night the water polo team defeated Chicago by the score of 7 to 0 and brought home the intercollegiate polo title. Later the polo team entered the American Championships and after a hard game were beaten for third place by the Chicago Swimming Club. The work of Captains Henry and Gossett throughout the year was particularly commendable.

The Freshmen swimming and polo teams are to be congratulated. The success of the season was largely due to the fact that the varsity had in the Freshmen worthy opponents in both branches. We will expect to hear further from Dean Chase and G. S. Beaumont in swimming and Captain Sewell and O. R. Clements in polo.

TENNIS

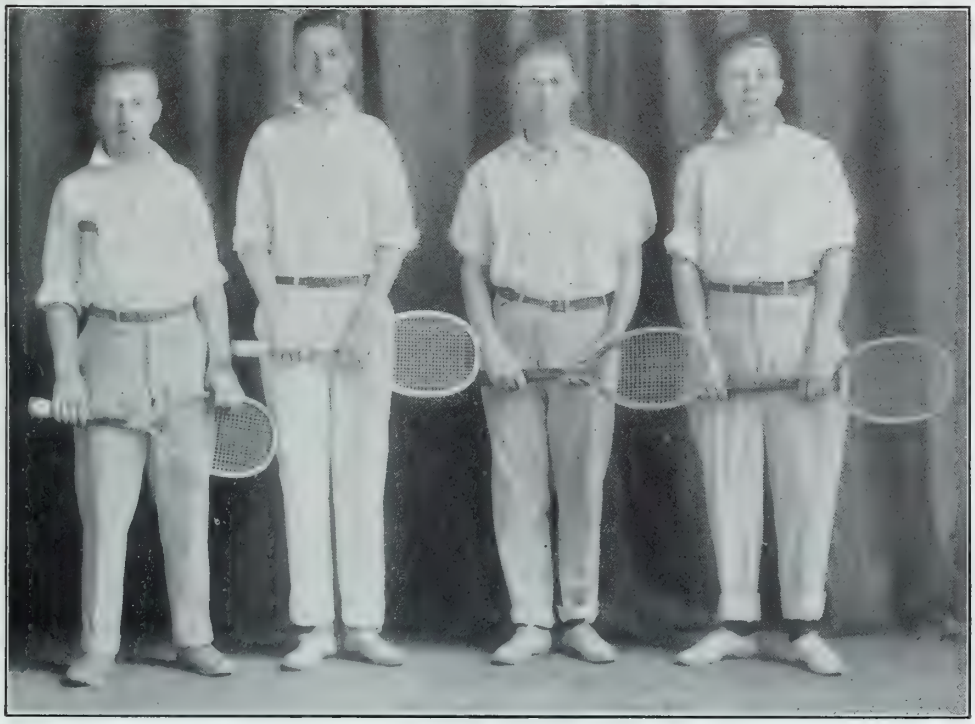

THE season of 1910-1911 witnessed the inauguration of a new feature in tennis events at Illinois. This was the "University Team Championship." Four men were selected from each of the four classes by the coach (Dr. Hawk) to compete for the championship. The Seniors (Edler, Partridge, Camp and Cogswell) defeated the Juniors (Oliver, Ingersoll, Wilson and Klotz), while the Sophomores (Atkinson, Sedrich, Karkow and Frailey) lost to the Freshmen (Claflin, McKay, Catton and Barden). In the finals the Seniors defeated the Freshmen for the Championship.

On the basis of the above competition the following players were selected to compose the University Team: Edler, '11, Partridge, '11, Camp, '11, Ingersoll, '12, and Atkinson, '13.

Illinois was represented in the Conference tennis event (Western Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament) held in Chicago the first week in June, by Edler and Partridge in the singles and Ingersoll and Atkinson in the doubles. Both championships were won by Minnesota largely through the individual prowess of "Joe" Armstrong, the Minnesota State Champion.

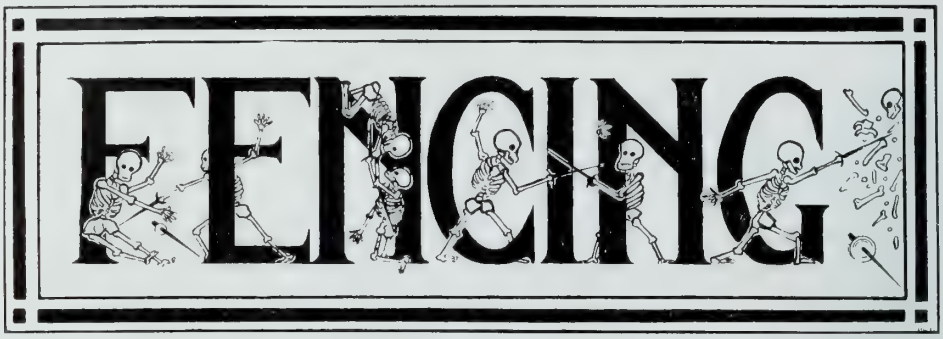

The tournament to decide the University championship in singles and doubles was held in October, 1911. For the first time faculty players were excluded from the competition. This change of policy proved an added incentive to the student competition. Interest in the outcome of the championship events was increased through the return to college of McKim, '12, a former member of the tennis team.

The semi-finalists in singles were Claflin, '14, Loehr, '13, Atkinson, '13, and McKim, '12. Claflin and McKim met in the finals. The former won in a very interesting and spirited contest. The championship in doubles was won by McKim and Ingersoll from Claflin and Loehr.

BOWLING

OWLING at Illinois was more popular than ever during the season of 1911-12. This was due mainly to the stimulating efforts of Mr. R. H. Brown, the capable manager of the alleys.

Seven important events were decided upon the Y. M. C. A. alleys. These included the "Cup Competition" for the University Championship; an eight team open tournament; open singles and doubles Championship; the class tournament; the inter-fraternity competition and the inter-club event.

The next important event of the year was the "Cup Competition," a beautiful sterling silver loving cup being donated for the event by Mr. Brown. Twenty-five of the leading bowlers of the University entered, the following men qualifying for the finals: Herriott, '14, Gamble, '14, McKnight, Turner, '14, Postel, '15, and Dr. Hawk. Herriott carried off the honors with an average of 181 for nine games.

In the "eight team" tournament, the team captained by H. F. Kemman, '12, won first place with 17 victories and 4 defeats. Besides Captain Kemman the team included D. G. Girton, '12, W. A. Cope, '13, R. J. Hale, '13, and F. E. Richart, '14.

The open tournament in singles and doubles was a very popuar event as was evidenced by the large number (50) of entries. The singles were won by Silkman, '15, whereas Postel, '15, and Bebb, '12, took first honors in the doubles.

Five teams were entered in the "Class Championship" event, the faculty being represented as usual. The Sophomore team, captained by Herriott won two championships with 17 victories and 7 defeats. The Juniors, Faculty, Seniors and Freshmen finished in the order named. In addition to Harriott, the winning team consisted of Turner, Bloebaum, Peeples, Richart, Gamble and Hoskins. High score was made by Kemman (257).

The usual intense interest was manifested in the annual inter-fraternity competition. First place was won by Kappa Sigma with Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Tau Delta in second and third places respectively. The Iris won the inter-club championship with an unbroken string of victories.

The Y. M. C. A. team composed of Brown, Miller, Herriott, Turner, and Hawk won second place in the Central Illinois Championship Tournament held in Springfield. This same team with McKnight in place of Turner, later defeated Clinton on the latter's alleys. The game scores of the winning team were 934, 930 and 897.

Record for the course . . 34; held by E. P. Ripley, '09

THE annual fall tournament of the University Golf Club was cut short at the finals by the early winter. R. P. Gates, '12, and R. C. Williams, '13, were the competitors in the finals.

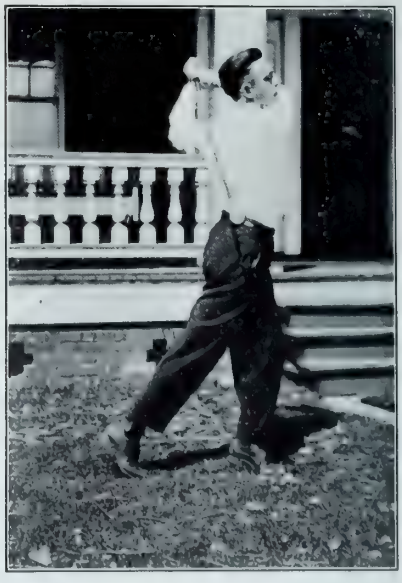

The golf course of the University Club is 2,621 yards long for nine holes. Bogey for the course is 41 and Par is 33.

A movement was started this year by the faculty members of the club for the building of a club house on the course.

If a Western Intercollegiate Golf Tournament is held during this year the University Club will be strongly represented. The team would probably be picked from the following players: R. P. Gates, '12, R. C. Williams, '13, Frazer Hale, '15, J. M. Kehlor, '14, D. S. Shellanbarger, '14, S. L. Stebbins, '14, E. B. Hopkins, '14, and E. C. Prouty, '14.

CLASS ATHLETICS

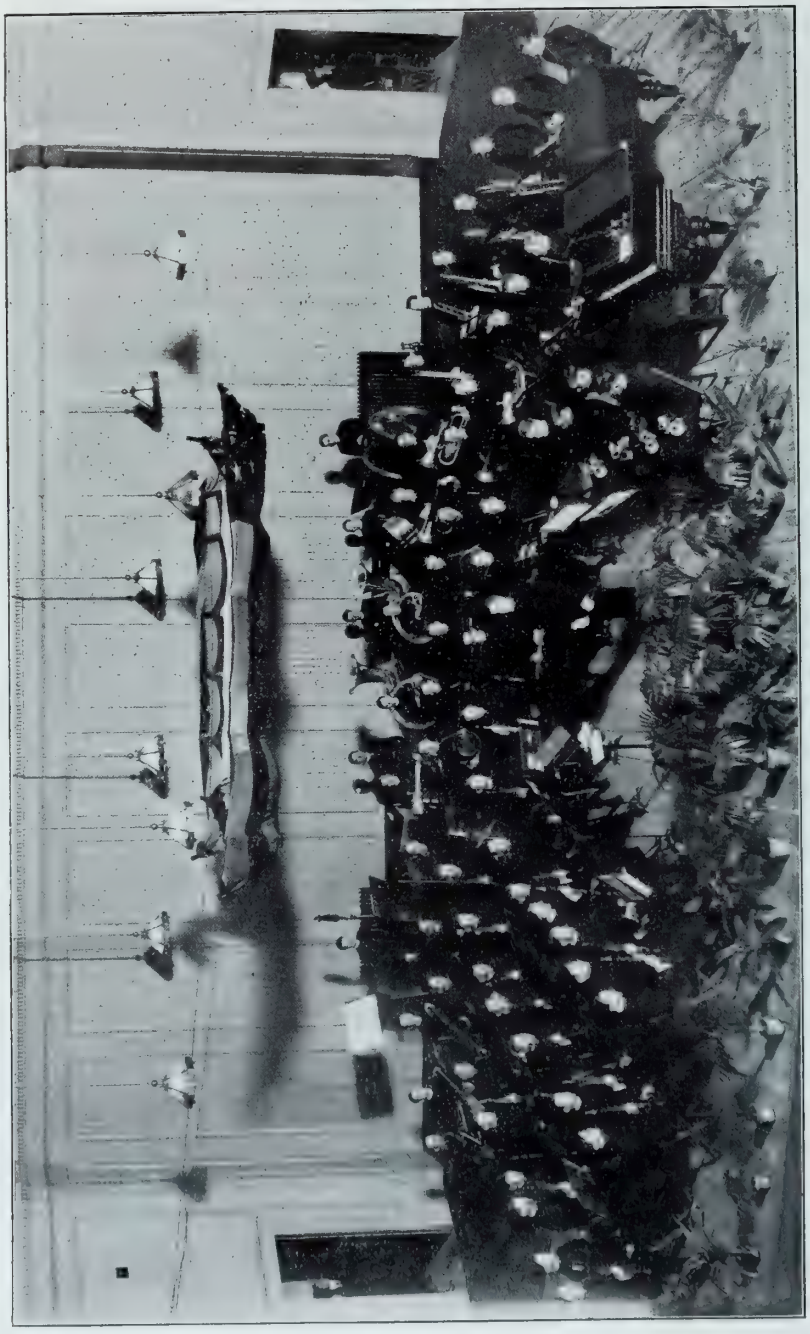

THLETES are not always born but are in many cases developed. It is because of this fact that a new method of conducting class athletics was proposed and adopted. Heretofore class competition has been limited to one team from each class. The disadvantages of this scheme are obvious. Only a very small proportion of the members of a class had sufficient ability to make the teams. Many who probably had the ability failed to try for them because they had no confidence in themselves. Often the teams were composed almost entirely of men of varsity material who were ineligible for the University Team because of scholastic difficulties or professionalism. In order to remedy this condition the new method was devised and put into practice. Each class is required to have five teams instead of one. The teams are selected according to Colleges. Thus the star players are not permitted to play on one team but are divided among the five. This change gives the player with only mediocre ability an opportunity of making the team. The consequence is easily discernible. Men who have never before taken any interest in Class Athletics are out every day working for a place on the team and many of them surprise even themselves at the ability they have. Of course since the scheme is only an innovation here it is impossible to make any well-founded predictions as to its outcome. Some of its good points are, however, evident. In the first place, as has already been suggested, it widens the interest in class athletics. While it is not certain that Varsity material will be uncovered as a result it is not beyond contemplation that such a thing might happen. In the second place it affords an excellent opportunity for the men in one College to become acquainted with those from other Colleges. This feature does not bear exactly on the Athletic benefit but there is no question but that it is very desirable.

Similar methods are and have been for some time, practiced in other Universities, notably Wisconsin. We may perhaps infer from the fact that it has become so well established and popular there that it is here to stick. Wisconsin has found that instead of interest lagging after the first year it has been just the contrary and that each year sees an increasing interest in class athletics.

ORATORY & DEBATE

THE YEAR IN ORATORY AND DEBATE

THE University debating teams, four in number, engaged this year in contests with Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Ohio State Universities. All of the contests were fought with ardor and with skill. We divided the honors evenly, winning from Iowa and Wisconsin in the December debates, and losing to our eastern neighbors in March. In each case the decision was "split." This serves to emphasize the closeness of the contests.

The victory over the S. U. I. team was especially noteworthy as it was the first break Iowa had suffered in a string of successes which began in 1907. The defeat was administered on her own platform. In spite of this, however, Iowa still holds first place in the total number of debates won since the organization of the pentangular league, with eight victories and four defeats. Illinois is a close second, with seven winning teams to her credit. We are the only member of the league which has never been doubly defeated in any given year.

A large number of men tried out for the spring debates and the teams selected made strong showings. Both the home contests with Ohio and that with Indiana at Bloomington were hard fought and the result was in grave doubt until the decision was announced.

J. V. STEVENSON

Mr. James Vial Stevenson, who has appeared on three debating teams, will be our representative in the contest of the Northern Oratorical League at Evanston on May 3. Although Illinois is the youngest member of this organization, her three former representatives have acquitted themselves most creditably, and it is predicted that Mr. Stevenson will sustain, if not improve upon, the record already set.

The situation, in general, is extremely encouraging. Never before have so many students been registered in the courses in Public Speaking, while the interest in debating and oratory manifested by the literary societies is strong and active.

THE LAKE GENEVA STUDENT CONFERENCE

DURING the latter half of the month of June each year about 500 college men from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and North Dakota meet for a Conference on the shores of Lake Geneva. No more beautiful spot could be found for an out-of-doors conference of this kind.

The life in the tents, the opportunity for swimming, boating, fishing, tramping and all forms of athletic sports, to which the afternoons are wholly given, make this an ideal outing. The conference is not an outing however except in so far as an outing will help a man to attain the objective. It is a council of war, where an earnest effort is made to help every man to be a trained leader among his fellow students, and no man will be happy at Geneva who is not willing to play this game. The Conference endeavors to help each delegate to be a leader, by helping him in his own personal life to have a real grip on fundamentals; answering many perplexing questions; giving him a glimpse of what other college men are doing; showing him something of the needs of the world and the conquests of the Christian religion; offering him an opportunity to acquire the personal friendship of great, living personalities; granting him a vision of what he might do and be in the world; and giving his a closer touch with the personality that gives power to attain. That the Conference has done this for the delegates in years past is the testimony of thousands now occupying places of trust and responsibility.

The University Association is well represented each year. The 1911 delegation numbered 30 men. The conference is open to all men of the University.

THE 1911 MAYPOLE DANCE

THE sun setting in a glorious western sky, hushed bleachers and the distant chant of the senior girls as they came from serenading the president to bid a last farewell on Illinois Field—thus began the thirteenth annual Maypole.

As the sweet, sad notes of the farewell died away the seniors dispersed and the pageant entered. Gay, fairylike maidens danced attendance to the queen, Doris Osborne, and after an elaborate march of many figures and poses she was crowned by her maid of honor, Amy Overland. The two then lead a dainty May Queen Revel followed by the others.

The Illinois Waltz was a feature of the occasion, all the girls being costumed in orange and blue pennants. After this came the Shepherdess girls.

The Grand Maypole was more beautiful than ever before. The girls were draped with garlands of flowers and wove the Serpentine waltz. The dance of the Chimney Sweeps was taken from the old May-Day custom and was almost weird in its effect. Among the six nation dances the English Morris Sword dance was new to Illinois. The May-Day frolic ended with an ensemble—a beautiful old English Maypole dance.

Perhaps no other feature of school activities at Illinois appeals to visitors and the student body as does this long established May-Day custom. The success with which it has been carried out is due in no small measure to the untiring efforts of the faculty members of the physical training department; and the interest of the gymnasium classes in making this an artistic performance goes to prove that our women can support their own institutions in the university.

Patronize our advertisers but take a care when you read the undertaker's ad. Don't order your bier as yet

"What was your grade in T. & A. M., Smike?" Smike, "Naught point naught, naught, naught"

THE GIRLS' ANNUAL STUNT SHOW

AT the close of last year's Maypole came the Girls' Stunt Show. All the features of the program were bright and clever, reflecting credit upon the various organizations. The best of the stunts was that put on by the Alethenai. It was called "The Illini, a Morality Play," and had two acts, the first during the reign of "Student Graft" and the second during the reign of "Faculty Saints." This pantomime was very clever and merited the silver loving cup. Of the other stunts, that put on by the Thetas was especially pretty. Their big black cats with their blinking eyes were as novel as their song was delightful. The Gypsy and Mystic dances executed by the Chi Omegas and the Alpha Omicron Pis were both fascinating and graceful. The Pi Phi Minstrels were laughable and their end men were vigorously applauded. The take off on the College Serenade which the Delta Gammas gave was amusing and the yells were quite realistic. The Kappas gave a very pretty Chinese scene with an original and appropriate song. The "Tug of War" which the Alpha Xi Deltas literally "pulled off" was certainly funny and the water in the "tub lake" was real. The visit of the Legislature twenty years hence, was especially clever and well given. In this act the Atheneans showed us that the Legislators would be women and in spite of their exalted state they were still feminine enough to be scared out of their wits by a tiny mouse. The Alpha Alphas (Alpha Delta Phi) Spectre was both mystic and realistic. The Illiola quartet gave a humorous little skit called "The Professor at Home," that was well sung and acted. The Military Band of the Woman's League made a very attractive opening number. The block I formation and the gesticulations of the leader were particularly good. The girls from the Association House closed the program with a lively and much appreciated pantomime, entitled "An Elopement under Difficulties." The pantomime was very amusing and the living furniture was as funny as one could wish.

Too much for the Alpha Taus—The Phi Gams on one side—a church on the other and a saloon across the street

"Have you heard about the new harmony at the Zeta Psi House?" "No, harmony of what?" "Why harmony of colors! Haven't you ever seen Barnet's combination of red tie, green vest, gray coat, and tan hose?"

Now here sits dainty Betty
With her bids around her spread,
But which one to be chosen
Is puzzling her pretty head.

Oh shall it be the Kappas?
Or the Thetas, or which of all?
Dear Betty is sorely troubled
For she likes them one and all.

Far o'er the rolling swells of wood and field,
There where the sun-drenched showers of April play,
Spring, with throbbing prophecies of May,
Smiles through her tears and beckons me to yield.
Friend of my youth, thy lips are cold and sealed;
Green is the mantle o'er thy grave today.
Blindly I grope along my weary way,
And ask the age-old question unrevealed.
Councils of men and bards are no avail;
I find no comfort for my loss and pain,
Save where the sunlight shimmers soft and pale,
Where Springtime beckons once again.
There in the purple cop of Crocus frail,
I read God's answer in a cup of rain.

Ettie Lantz, my Curly-locks,
Wilt thou be mine?
Thou shalt not wash dishes
Nor yet feed the swine.
But sit on a cushion
And sew a fine seam
And feed upon strawberries, sugar and cream.

Carl Sigerson.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Speaking of the naughtiness of the ordinary stock picture used to advertise burlesque, did you ever see one of the flashlight photos taken at an annual Christmas tree party?

EDWARD LOUIS HEINTZ, Ph.G., M.D.

EDWARD LOUIS HEINTZ, son of John Louis and Francis de Bamrnfeind Heintz, was born in Rolla, Missouri.

After attending the public schools, he matriculated in the University of South Dakota, and later graduated in the College of Pharmacy. While attending the University he was a member of the Track Team. He graduated from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy with the degree Ph.G. cum laude, in 1908 and then matriculated in the College of Medicine, University of Illinois where he received his degree M.D. in 1901.

Dr. Heintz has been connected with the faculty of the College of Medicine since his graduation. He was assistant Professor of Materia Medica from 1901-'07, and Adjunct Professor of Materia Medica from 1907-1911. In the fall of 1911 he was given the Chair of Junior Medicine and is also Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine. Dr. Heintz is the attending physician, Secretary and one of the Founders of the University Hospital, which is one of the finest hospitals in Chicago. He is also professor of Medicine and Materia Medica in the University Hospital of Training School for nurses and one of its founders.

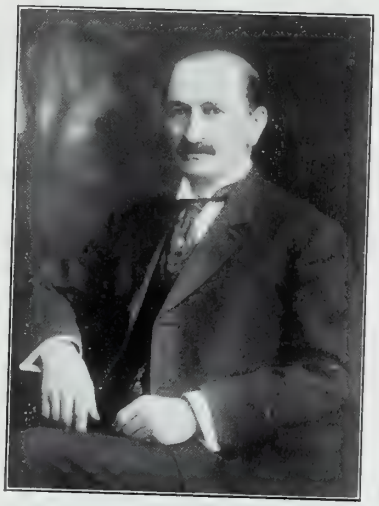

He is Ex-President of the Chicago Association of the University of South Dakota and is ex-Vice-President of the Chicago Alumni Association of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Heintz is a member of the American Medical Association, the Illinois State Medical Society, Chicago Medical Society, and has been an officer of the Grand Council of Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity since 1902; during this time he compiled and edited the Directory and Catalog of the Fraternity. He married Bertha Marie Hauses, May 14, 1911.

WILLIAM McINTYRE HARSHA, A.B., M.D.

THE subject of this sketch was born and spent his boyhood days in Southern Ohio. His parents were William Buchanan and Rachel McIntyre Harsha. He attended the public schools, a local academy, and graduated at the Normal University at Lebanon. He began his medical studies in Michigan University, attended the second year at Cincinnati and graduated at the Chicago Medical College (now Northwestern University Medical School) in 1883. After a few years of successful practice in Cerro Gordo and Decatur, Illinois, he returned to Chicago in 1890. During the first year here he took post graduate work, specializing in surgery and clinical diagnosis. He was chiefly instrumental in starting the Columbus Medical Laboratory, at that time a pioneer movement here in aid of laboratory diagnosis for physicians.

In 1891 he became connected with the College of Physicians and Surgeons, now the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois. In 1896 he was appointed to the Chair of Clinical Surgery which place he now holds.

Dr. Harsha has been a contributor to medical journals, a worker in various medical associations and societies. He is on the surgical staff of St. Luke's Hospital; and is a member of the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Medicine, the Illinois State, Mississippi Valley, Tri-State, Chicago Medical and Chicago Surgical Societies, and also of the University, Hamilton, Press and Physicians Clubs, and of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

CLASS HISTORY OF 1912

THE TIME—October 1st, 1908, 10 A. M.

The place—The broad verdant campus of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The scene—One of excitement, confusion and what at first glance appeared like primitive barbarous warfare. The annual class rush was in progress.

We the green, ignorant, uncouth, pestiferous vermin of the class of 1912 (just then arrived) had accepted the dare attack, the mighty array of the sophomores. Records say that it was a glorious fight and many were the valorous deeds. Fortune did not smile on us this our first day at College (the latter accounts for our stick to it-record since then) at 12 A. M. weary, muddy, egg bespattered, shirtless, bruised and torn we were forced to beat a retreat, carrying our wounded heroes off the field in inglorious and bitter defeat.

Class organization came next and Mr. O. Herrin was chosen as president. In which capacity he proved a hustler; so much so that at the end of the first year an unanimous vote replaced him at the helm for the second term.

The excitement of those days! How will we remember the amoeba, parameciak expounded to us by Drs. Wyneloop. How formidable Gray's anatomy appeared—our Uncle De White struggling with us with might and main, but finally we accumulated much knowledge concerning the human body.

Oh, weary days and nights!

The freshman year passed at last and we sold out title "D. J's" with a sigh of relief and with a few exceptions returned home to tell the folks all about it.

The sudden and deplorable death of Mr. Kibe cast the only shadow over our first year's course.

The fall of '09 found most of the class back at College. A few of our number had left us for "ways unknown."

Prosaic work claimed us from the start. We trod the tangled paths of physiology, the disease stricken ways of pathology and the intricacies of therapeutics and pharmacology. The memories of those hours of toil in laboratories where lurked diseased calls, and blood vessels, where faradic and galmanic electricity would get mixed up. Where incompatables and vile smelling compounds must be made! All those will ever be with us.

The Junior year opened auspiciously with a roll call of 156. Many new faces were in our midst; a few more had dropped out from disaster met with on the rocks of sophomore year or from shear weariness.

Mr. S. A. Donahue held the reigns of government and served the class as a good leader should.

We were introduced to Dr. Williamson and the Dispensary Department and then learned what we did not know—volumes might be written! Under Dr.

Earle we received our medicine, who expounded to us the basis for our later study. As tuberculosis and typhoid were discussed our interest increased and slowly but surely we began to acquire the look of medical wisdom which the mysteries of medicine stamps on one.

Election of officers was held during the latter part of the term at which Mr. Ferguson was elected president.

October 1st, 1911, found most of our number back, eager for the final lap. Early in the first semester, the death of our most respected and honored teacher, Dr. Hugh Alexander brought sorrow to the hearts of every senior student. Dr. Ferguson's ability as a surgeon was unquestioned and as a teacher was loved by all his pupils.

At this stage of our career life in all its seriousness looms up before us. To think in a few months we shall be graduate M.D's. The stern realities of medical practice will be before us. With no one to guide us or point out our mistakes. No longer can we sit on the benches and watch the destrous pit staff under the guidance of Mr. Malttey; push carts and assist the big ones, nor can we longer expect to hear chief O'Herrin and Mr. Ross discuss the leading questions (the fate of the Ross Club).

But with the same determination that has landed us safely thus far, we shall gird our armor on still more tightly, and step forth to do our share of the battle loyally, and hopeful that fate may be kind to us, when we first register in the School of Experience.

COLLEGE OF

PHARMACY

CLYDE MASON SNOW

CLYDE MASON SNOW was born at Earlville, Illinois, in 1868. He received his early education in the public schools at that place and graduated from its high school, after which he attended the Maryland Military and Naval Academy at Oxford, Md., Bryant and Stratton's Business College at Chicago, and later received the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Valparaiso.

In 1898 he engaged in the retail drug trade at Earlville, and during the four years following was employed as Drug Clerk in various Illinois cities.

He entered the University of Illinois, School of Pharmacy in 1900 and was elected President of the Class '02 in which he graduated with honors. In recognition of his proficiency and ability as a student he was appointed assistant to Professor Hallberg who held the chair of Pharmacy from the time the College of Pharmacy was united with the University until his death in 1910. After the death of Professor Hallberg, Professor Snow succeeded him as Acting Professor of Pharmacy, which position he still holds. He was assistant director of the National Institute of Pharmacy for six years, taught pharmacognosy and pharmacy at the Harvey Medical College and pharmacy at the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery.

Professor Snow is a member of the Revision Committee for the National Formulary, American Pharmaceutical Association, Illinois Pharmaceutical Association, and fraternally a Mason and a member of the Kappa Psi.

During his connection with the School he has made a wide acquaintance among pharmacists generally and a host of friends among students and alumni, who recognize him as an incisive and instructive teacher, a persistent quizz master and an ardent and energetic supporter of any thing favoring the advancement of Pharmacy.

HISTORY OF CLASS OF 1912

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Frank H. Lindeman	President
Robert H. Stocks	Vice-President
Harold Hansen	Secretary
Ben C. Grosse	Treasurer
Clyde W. Snyder	Chairman Executive Committee

DURING the latter part of September, 1910, there stepped from the trains at the various depots in Chicago about a hundred would-be pharmacists inquiring the shortest route to Twelfth and Michigan. Upon their arrival they were joined by about a score of City Sons with the aspirations. All were ushered via the lightning elevator to the third floor, and, after regaining the breath lost in the whirl-wind ascent they entered the office where they were quite cordially received and duly relieved of their few shekels in a very pleasing manner by Actuary Day, after which ceremony some sought a place to further their education in the School of Experience and incidentally to in a measure fill a vacancy in the several wallets caused by the deletion of the aforesaid shekels.

On September twentieth was born the Class of 1912, an aggregation of brain and brawn with a limited portion of feminine beauty representing not only Porto Rico, Egypt and many states in the Union, but Milwaukee Ave. as well.

All came determined to assimilate and absorb an abundant knowledge of Chemistry, Materia Medica and Pharmacy, which were severally administered by able professors and instructors at first in small doses but gradually increasing until the maximum was reached.

Early in the year the class was organized with Grosse President, Lindeman, Vice-President, Sullivan Secretary, and Stoebig, Treasurer.

We were grieved when because of his illness we lost the tutorship of Dean Goodman but our grief was turned to joy on being informed that Professor Day would further guide us in Materia Medica.

The class had the distinction during the Junior year (and maintained it as Seniors) of winning for itself a reputation as never a class in the history of the school has enjoyed, it being such that the Faculty apparently exhausted, declared a five months vacation, during which time they were enabled, as we found later, to study up most perplexing examination questions.

At the opening of the Senior term we missed several faces, some perhaps thought they would require another year to digest the Junior morsels, while others became entangled matrimonially. Likewise, we greeted several new faces.

Bright Junior—Is gold caustic?
Prof. Snow—Sure, doesn't it burn your pockets?

some from other schools and some from previous classes. With the opening came disappointment, Mr. Langenham, the able assistant in Chemistry, resigned to accept a position in the Chemistry Department of the University of Wisconsin; however, we are glad to see him climb higher the Ladder of Success. The vacancy is now being filled by Mr. H. W. Colson, '10.

Mr. Lee Eicher, '11, was selected assistant in the Pharmacy Department and during his stay, though short thus far, has proven quite competent and we predict for him a brilliant future.

Politically, the class this year has been exceedingly active and after much discussion placed Lindeman in the president's chair, Stocks, vice-president, Hansen, secretary and Grosse treasurer, all of whom performed their duties as men of vast experience.

Socially and as a diversion from the regular routine the class enjoyed a dance, a theatre party, a banquet and before the close of the year we expect to visit the plants of Bauer and Black, Chicago, and of Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit, and we have the assurance of an enjoyable as well as instructive recreation.

Looking over these past two years we feel we can truthfully say that as a class the class of 1912 was a better one at graduation than at its birth in 1910, and as members each departing with the coveted diploma for which he so persistently labored, was far better prepared for a successful career, and will always hold in his heart a warm spot for the University of Illinois School of Pharmacy.

G. W. COOK

DOCTOR GEORGE W. COOK was born in Kentucky in 1866. The war having destroyed the possibilities of living in that section, for some time, the family moved to Southern Illinois. At two years of age his father died, and at seven, he was left homeless, his mother having died. He was then taken into the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holcolm of Cobden, Illinois, for a brief time. From there, he went to the home of a half brother, who was a farmer, and while there, attended the country school. At eleven years of age, he was taken into the family of a physician by the name of Hastings, where he obtained the foundation for his medical and dental education. After spending several years in the public school, he attended the State Normal School, as preparatory to college entrance, afterwards entering the Northwestern Medical School, where he took one year's work. He then continued his studies at the State University of Iowa, taking the degrees of Doctor of Dental Surgery from the last named institution. He returned to Chicago in 1890, took a Post Graduate course in Haskell's School of Prosthetic Dentistry. In 1891-1892-1893, he practiced Dentistry in Chicago. In 1894 and 1895 he began a systematic study in Bacteriology and Pathology, as a special student of Dr. Stanley P. Black, who was then professor of Bacteriology and Pathology of the Northwestern Medical School, also Pathologist at Mercy Hospital. Doctor Cook spent two years in this hospital. He then entered the Bacteriological and Pathological Laboratory of Dr. Klebb's of the Klebb-Loeffler bacillus fame. After that he had the good fortune of having the clinical instructions in surgery under Doctors Andrews, Fenger, Morgan and Schroeder, after which he was made Professor of Histology and Pathology. After College of Dental Surgery. At the organization of the Illinois Dental College, now a department of the University of Illinois, he was made Professor of History and Pathology. After two years, he became the Professor of Bacteriology and Pathology, a position he still occupies. He was the Editor of the American Dental Journal from 1901 to 1909. In 1906 he was made the Dean of the Dental Faculty, College of Dentistry, University of Illinois. He has done extensive research in Oral Bacteriology and Pathology and Dental Therapeutics, and has published many articles on these subjects, notably among which are "Tubercular Infection of the Lymphatic Glands" entrance being made through pulpless teeth, "Pathology of Pulp Gangrene," "Effects of Heat on Dentine," "Antiseptics and Disinfectants," "Bacteriological Study of Pyorrhea Alveolaris," "Actinomycosis," "A study of the Systematic Action of Mercury in Amalgam Fillings," "The Pathological Nature of Degeneration of Mucous Tissue and their Bichemical Nature." He wrote the chapter on Erosion of the Teeth in Johnson's Book on Operative Dentistry, and numerous other articles pertaining to the Science and Art of Dentistry.

He was a member of the 63rd-4-5 International Dental Congress.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

AFTER exclusive practice of five years in the City of Chicago, I had decided to take a vacation which was by all means due me after all the hard work I had done. As I was visiting Hong Kong, China, the first man I ran into was our 1912 class editor, Dr. Asger, who certainly took great pains in showing me the sights, and in his auto we made quick time. It was a royal time and a sorrowful parting.

Upon my return I landed in New York City on the 12th of July the same year, I came across Dr. Allan Martin (the kangaroo of the 1912 class) who came all the way from Australia to visit the S. S. White Dental Supply house for the purpose of obtaining a new outfit for his office abroad.

Going through the state of Missouri, I could not miss the town, St. Joseph, for the purpose of locating our 1912 class-mate Dick (Dr. Comello). Did I find Dick? Well, I guess yes, there he was in his office on Main St. the same old looking olive shaped gentleman. His office was crowded and I was introduced to Mrs. Comello, a fine little blonde, and say you ought to see Dick Comello, Jr., asking papa for a penny. Dick gave me a grand reception. I was wondering who I was going to meet next of the 1912 class. Sure enough, as I was changing trains at Dubuque, Iowa, and having a two hour stay there, I walked into a drug store and looked up the telephone directory to find Moorhead's assistant, our seamless crown man, Dr. Higgins. After I told him who I was he came down to the depot to see me. We had a very pleasant time. When I got back to Chicago I was surprised to learn that Dr. Flannery (the wild Irishman), of the class of 1912 was assistant to Prof. Gallie at the University of Illinois Dental Department at a salary of $8,000. Hurrah for Joe. He is getting up in the world.

The next day I received a card announcing that Dr. Deutsch had removed his office from the North of Chicago to Room No. 606 Reliance Building. He has given up general practice and is now specializing on gold incisal angle restorations (exclusively). What do you think of that little shrimp?

I visited our friend Dr. Joe Palese. "Help, yes, yes, go on"; and say I found him hunting for root canals in a six year old child's tooth, and he could not find any because it was a deciduous tooth, and the roots were absorbed, and the first thing he knew he was grinding off the occlusal surface of the permanent tooth. At last my vacation came to an end, and I also had to cut out visiting and get busy at my office.

A. Roth, "Prophet," Class 1912.

Will someone kindly enlighten Bluim as to whether ginger ale is intoxicating

Dedication

To the cherished memory of old Shield and Trident and Phenix, we, the snicker-mongers of this great volume of sorrow and heart-breakition we call the stewed section, do offer our dedication. Realizing to the very recesses of our marrow how you chanted hymns of gladness when you learned that the thoughtful faculty had decided to close you up, clip your tusks, draw your political toe-nails, give you wings, gratis, and to make you over into a ladies' aid society, we strive here in our dumb, Rollo-dog fashion to express our wild gladness. Joyful moments come so seldom in this dental-parlor of an old world that your happy transmigration hours of Elysian bliss must have been heaven itself! May you live to see many more such times of hilarity!

BABIES

WALTER BOATMAN WORSHAM

Even the most pessimistic of critics phophesied nothing so evil as the end to which Walter has come. Could you, Gentle Reader, in your wildest phantasmagoria of Danville dreams, could you imagine that the dainty little gentleman portrayed so beautifully in the adjoining half-tone, was once what is now Walter Boatman Worsham? Once the pride, the admiration, the glory of his native town of Paris, now—the undescribable, fiery-topped, "Red," of the University of Illinois. To such depths as the harboring of this villian, has our fair Alma Mater fallen. Beware, Gentle Reader, lest cigarettes, ceramics, and white silk stockings result in your downfall!

JOHN JOSEPH DESMOND

Relentless Rudolph and Desperate Desmond came wearily down the path of the Illini Central.

"Ha! Hist! The University of Illinois!" hissed Desperate Desmond. "I will take it."

And forthwith the brave, though merciless Desmond advanced, seized it in his strong right hand, growled, "Give me everything," and he got it. A good square jaw bone can be used to slay anything.

The accompanying sketch by a county fair artist prognosticates the future of the infant. Ball is his forte, though at one time a hair or two on his upper lip so distracted his attention that he flunked two courses in succession.

HAROLD HARVESTER HERBERT

Harold Harvester Herbert, ladies and gents. Depicted here in the pristine bewitchery of blessed childhood, Harold reveals some of the beauty that has lately turned all the co-eds' heads. See the beautiful eyes! See the quizzical, ravishing pucker of his ruby-portaled mouth—the strawberry-tinted peach-blow of which haunts one even in lackaday dreams! Then, too, Harold shows in this photograph the tell-tale budding of a sometime Phi Beta Kappa! That Homeric brow, that fecundity of intellectual omnipotence of occipital wisdom—say no more, Sturgis—Harold Harvester is immense! Harold is greatness to the core!

GUY MORRILL

Guy Lyman Morrill, girls; Guy of Kewanee, thus in full. Did you realize that Guy had always been as beautiful as he is now? Well, after one long enraptured gaze at this epitome of cuteness, own up and say truthfully to yourself that you have never in your life seen anything half so sweet, one-fourth so angelic, one-eighth so ravishing, one-sixteenth so seraphic, one-thirty-secondth so ootsy-wotsy, one—but let us stop right here, before this lyric sprouts wings and flaps away. Anyhow Guy is beautiful to the tap-roots of his cuticle, so he is! We can see it in this childish photo, girls—'deed we can!

EDWARD STYLES

Oh you kid! See his fat little arms! Isn't his face just too sweet! He's just too cunning for anything, yes, he is! Oh you lovey little lump of sugar!

How Eddie ever got away from the Chicago Ladies' Aid Sewing Circle has never been satisfactorily explained. He did it, however, and crawled into the gymnasium at Illinois, where Leo G. immediately pounced upon him and made a gymnast of him. It looks as if G. or Goodie would have been better material, but we never question Leo's wisdom. Eddie has accomplished many things with his wiggling, such as Chi Beta, Tau Beta Pi, and grand opera. The climax of his career as a Callipygian Adonis came at the Stunt Show, when he made Pete Adams blush.

PAUL BUCHER FRITCHEY

19-27-3-106! Over for a touch down! Pumphandle Crossing wins! Who is the hero? Why, Polly Fritchey! 'Ray for Polly!

Such an auspicous beginning, such a magnificent photograph, could not but inspire the redoubtable youth to greater victories. Coming to Illinois to revolutionize football as it was played there, he was persuaded by the athletic director that such unquenchable fires of ability would best burn in other places. Tommy Arkle said, "Let Fritchey be business manager of the Illinois Magazine," and Fritchey was business manager of the Illinois Magazine.

What puzzles us most, is how can a man of such rigid ideals be a member of both the Lincoln League, and the Egyptian Club?

CHARLES HOWARD WARNOCK

Finest of the fine, Charlie boy left the narrow scholastic atmosphere of Onarga and came to the broader one of Champaign, where he has found a wider and more receptive field for his activities. The demand for his services on all occasions and for all purposes, has been so great that we have been compelled to put an extra page in the 1913 ILLIO to list his numerous honors. The final climactic accomplishment of our hero was securing a place on the University Auditing committee, as a result of which he will drive home in an automobile. The band will please play "When Charlie Comes Marching Tome," and follow it with "See the Conquering Hero Comes." Vive la Charlie! Vive la Onarga!

HERBERT FRED KEMMAN

LaGrange appeared on the map of Illinois at the same time that Herbie Kemman appeared on the University of Illinois baseball diamond. Under the able tutelage of Pigs Dietrich and Axel Gustafson, Herbie developed into a pitcher who could deliver almost any kind of goods; so when the Ag baseball team beat the freshman varsity, and the freshmen beat the regulars, G. began to take notice.

Herbie was a member of the 1911 Home-coming committee, and did all the work connected with it. He also rushed Alpha Gamma Rho successfully, and had the mumps in 1912.

He was late in getting in his senior honors and rather than such a famous man should be forgotten, this biography was prepared.

CHESTER OWEN FISCHER

Gaze on Chester, children. Chester is here shown in a fetching photo, taken while the dear child was still in all the stainless purity of darling virginity. This picture was taken long before dear Chester became a Kappa Sig, before he saw the light of the association of semi-Egyptian scoundrels known as the Showmeez safe-crackers' society. Then, too, Chester Owen did not at that time know the corrupting influences of the Lincoln League, of which, mind you, he at present unblushingly advertises himself as President. It is possible, really, that a full-grown man, in the full possession of his faculties, could have descended so low? Blushingly we feel bound to admit that dearest Chester has done even so. Sweet childhood dimples have given way to the political ramifications of Chester the statesman, Owen, the Great. Take a last look, children, before the cover is screwed on. Bye-bye, Chester. Don't oo cwy—

C. B. OLIVER

Andrew Carnegie, millionaire, philanthropist and what not, always did have an eye open to future industry. On May 3, 1889 the report came to him that a great hero had arrived. Andy immediately summoned his broker and ordered him to purchase a hog farm. His object was to raise hogs to supply the future demand for pig-skin. Not that he would use the skins to make leather medals for our hero but that he might utilize the hides for spheroids to be kicked and punted about on a grassy field known as a gridiron.

This seemingly innocent pastime was to be known as football and it might have proved a very meek and mild game had not our hero so cleverly developed himself into an invincible warrior whose thunderbolts took the form of footballs. Great became his fame and the industry flourished beyond the fondest hopes of the canny Andy who now says that without the mar-vo-lous skill of the lusty Olly the great enterprise of the farm would have ignominiously met an untimely extermination.

RAYMOND CARUSO McLARTY

All the world likes to know about the youthful, the formative epochs, in the lives of our great men. As one of the vast multitude of beings with rights to know, gaze in hallowed veneration at Raymond Caruso McLarty!

Still in the spotless virginity of his boy-hood, behold Raymond betraying even in this precious cabinet panel the unsurpassable sweetness of disposition, the cunning charm of the Sistine Madonna, the unforgetable something we call genius, nay, talent! For Raymond is gifted. Raymond is talented. Raymond is there. Let not an unholy expression escape you while viewing the portrait. Unconsecrated be the very tacks in the shoes of you who heed not the admonition!

WILFRED ROPIEQUET ELECTED EDITOR OF "ILLIO" AT CHAMPAIGN

STUDENTS WAXED WARM IN CONTEST WHEREIN PRACTICAL POLITICS PLAYED PROMINENT PART — EDITORSHIP IS A DISTINCTION

After a political battle, which, in the University of Illinois, assumes as large proportions as a presidential election does in the country at large, Wilfred Ropiequet, son of Attorney and Mrs. R. W. Ropiequet of this city, was elected editor-in-chief of the "Illio," an annual publication of the State's big school.

The "Illio" portrays in a semi-humorous manner, the year's events in the school and to be editor of the publication is a distinction sought by many. This year the fight simmered down to a "Fraternity," and an "Anti Fraternity" ticket. Mr. Ropiequet was the candidate of the "Antis."

Practical politics were resorted to by both sides and it is said some of the schemes evolved by the embyro politicians will be adopted by the Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson campaign managers during the coming presidential fight.

Mr. Ropiequet is a student in the journalistic department of the university and for some time has been connected with the publication of the "Illini," the daily newspaper of the school.

WALTER WORSHAM HIGHLY HONORED

ONE OF TWENTY STUDENTS SELECTED AS MEMBERS OF THE SHIELD AND TRIDENT

Another honor has been bestowed upon Walter B. Worsham, the young Paris man who is making good at the University of Illinois. Worsham was one of the twenty students chosen from the entire class for membership to the Shield and Trident honorary senior society at the University. The society is composed of the twenty men who have made the greatest showing during their college career and seem to have the finest prospects on their leaving college. Worsham is the first Paris boy to gain this honor and his local friends have just reason to share his pride in the achievement.

ILLINI EDITOR MAKES GOOD

FREEPORT PAPER TELLS OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF HAROLD HERBERT

Freeport Journal: Harold Herbert of this city, a former member of the "Journal" news staff, now a student at the University of Illinois, has had a brilliant and interesting record since enrolling at the University. Here it is:

Editor-in-chief of the "Illini," one of four seniors elected to both senior societies, viz. The Shield and Trident, and the Phoenix, he having chosen the former, but both have since united; member of Delta Kappa Chi, the honorary commercial society to which only those are eligible who have "made good" in some business capacity; honorary member of the Scribblers' Club, composed of those who write for publications; charter member of the Fourth Estate, a club for newspaper men only; member of the Chi Beta, local social fraternity and boarding club; and his latest honor, the election to the Phi Beta Kappa, the highest honor to be attained in his college.

MEDINA BOY SAVES CHAPTER HOUSE

The Medina friends of George A. Newell, Jr., will be interested in learning of the narrow escape of his Chapter House of the society of Theta Delta Chi, at the University of Illinois, at Champaign, Ill., recently when fire threatened to destroy the building, due to the fire from an open fire place communicating to the floor of one of the rooms.

Mr. Newell was aroused by the smoke and immediately awakened his associates who turned in the alarm, and with the help of the local fire department quelled the flames. The fire had a good start and but for the prompt action of all hands the students might have been placed in serious danger.—From Medina Daily Journal.

ARTHUR, THE ONE BEST BET

Officers of the Daily Illini for the next college year were to be chosen at a meeting this afternoon. H. H. Harwood was expected to be unopposed for business manager. A. H. Ogle was Dean Clark's choice for editor.—Champaign News.

MOB OF STUDENTS FIRES A THEATRE

Barred From Free Seats, University of Illinois Rooters Try to Destroy Building

(Special Dispatch to the Herald)

Champaign, Ill., Friday.—Because they were denied a free show by the Orpheum Vaudeville Theatre tonight, four hundred students of the University of Illinois started a bonfire beneath the floor of the house when it was crowded. Attaches of the theatre found barrels on fire and put out the blaze without the knowledge of the audience, thus preventing a panic.

Before the fire was discovered the students had engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with the theatre attaches and the police. They were repulsed with clubs. The theatre doors were broken down and brickbats were hurled through some of the windows. The students then vented their displeasure by tearing down the college colors which festooned the theatre building in celebration of the annual fall home-coming.

Several hundred students within added a final touch to the confusion by standing on their chairs and demanding, "Let them in." Samuel Harris, manager of the theatre, addressed the students, stating that he had made arrangements with the Illinois Students' Union for a free show tomorrow night in case Illinois defeated the Gopher invaders. This proposition was hissed "Bourgeoise!" as Mr. McKee hurried back to his hotel.

General censure of the rioting students is expressed. It is feared that the faculty will, as punishment, forbid the home-coming next year.

OUR BOYS STILL MAKING GOOD

Champaign, Ill., April 22.—Editor The Patriot: The fact that our boys at Champaign are making good is still true in that Lyman Wheeler, due to his high scholastic standing has lately become a member of Tau Beta Pi, the honorary engineering fraternity; and Ninian Burruss, after a competitive tryout, has been chosen as one of four men of the College of Agriculture, who are to be sent to Purdue University in the near future to present a program of agricultural interests before the students in the college of agriculture at that place. Both these young men deserve much credit for gaining the honors which are theirs.—From Carrollton Patriot.

ANOTHER BELLEVILLE BOY RECEIVES HONOR AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Arthur H. Ogle, of This City Received High Honors For Good Work Done In Two Years

The Daily Illini, the student newspaper of the University of Illinois, reports the holding of the first University convocation of the year, last week, at Champaign, where over two thousand people were assembled. Among other things done at the convocation was the announcement of preliminary honors awarded to 61 students for the best grade of work done during the past two years. In the list of 61 appears the name of one Belleville boy, Arthur H. Ogle, son of Attorney and Mrs. A. B. Ogle of East B Street.

There are over 4,500 students enrolled at the state university, and it is very apparent that to be one of the 61 preliminary honor students is regarded by the student body and the faculty as a very great mark of distinction. Mr. Ogle expects to complete his school work with the class of 1913.

BREAKS WESTERN RECORD

Ralph Sanders Has Good Chance For Olympic Team

Word was received by D. T. Sanders from his son, Ralph, who is attending school at the University of Illinois, that he won first place in the 440 yard dash and broke the record, clipping 3-5 of a second from the record held by Davenport, of the University of Chicago, time 52 4-5 seconds. Davenport won second and an Illinois man third.

Sanders according to the "dope" of sporting experts is the fastest quarter miler in the west today and with any kind of luck will be almost sure of a place on the American Olympic Team, which goes to Sweeden next summer to compete with the athletes of other countries for the World's Championship.

THE LOVERS

In spring time when the walks are wet
And sweethearts are full fair.
Then lovers take them strolling slow,
To breathe south campus air.

Just see them come in groups of two,
With steps sedate and slow,
And some are laughing gay and free,
And some are mummering low.

The next sweet pair that meets our gaze
Is "Frog" with Billy Hill,
They are so quiet and demure
Perhaps we should keep still.

Charles Purcell now is passing by,
A fair maid on his arm,
'Tis Miss Grace Bacon, slim and blond,
He guards from any harm.

Behold the pair, sedate and slow,
It's Arthur Simpson, see,
And who's the damsel by his side?
Oh that is Miss Dupuy.

Here's Herbie Hedman, Lillian Noth,
Oh what a stunning pair,
Just watch him eye her lovingly,
As she struts with nose in air.

Now this is big "Bud" Ramey, tall,
And with him little Nell,
Although she may be tiny,
She's mighty, so they tell.

Behind them comes sedate old "Peg,"
And with him Sylvia C.,
You know our Peg loves Dutchie so
He'd tag where'er went D.

This is young Verna Cooper, gay,
And with her "Hub," you see,
They give continued vaudeville
As funny as can be.

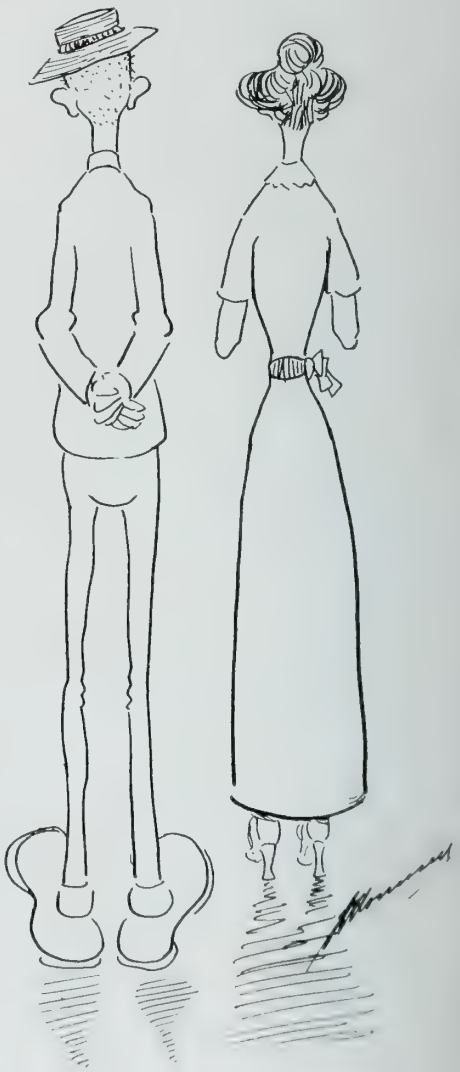

This youth is Mister "Cut" Moffett;
Who's the girl with whom he goes?
Oh I don't know, we must reply,
Some new one I suppose.

Now here is young Jean Ripley, Oh
And with her Rich,* you bet,
"He is the nicest man," she says,
"I ever, ever met."

The twain who now do come in sight
Are the leanest of the lank,
It is Paul Kircher, whom you see,
And with him Catherine Plank.

And here is Jessie Morse, you see,
Delano by her side,
When they can walk together thus
Their thoughts are rosy dyed.

Here comes dear Florence Royer, now,
With Sketer B., the lean,
They are the lovingest loving pair
That ever have been seen.

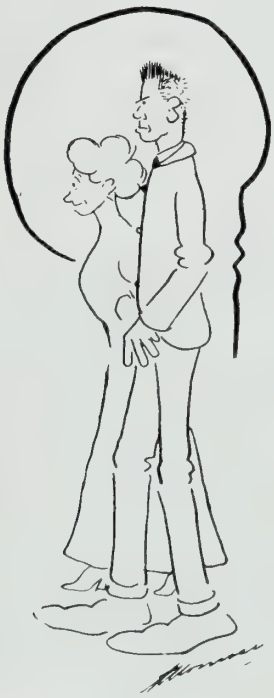

*Changed by Jean's request to "Pipe" Siefert.

Now here's Miss Dodds, or Peggy, fair,
And with her George, sweet lad,
These twain are ever bright and gay,
Whoever saw them sad?

Young Collett Woolman prances past,
He does not see the crowds,
Miss Helen Fairfield's by his side,
Their heads are in the clouds.

Here's Packey MacFarland and Fuzz Brown.
Why do we tease them here?
Because, forsooth, we make reply,
They are so cute and dear.

Behold, here comes Miss Clara Cronk,
With Morris, you know Art,
Why do they look so cheerful now?
They're pierced by Cupid's dart.

Just see "Dutch" Weis and Julia, cute,
They're sure the gayest pair,
They both trip on so light and quick,
You'd think they walked on air.

Who is the youth who's now in sight?
That's Murray, Cloyde, you know,
And the little maiden by his side,
That is Miss Perry, "Jo."

And this is Alexander, Art,
The Ragtime Band draws near?
Oh no, that's only Winnie Jones,
It is her laugh you hear.

Here comes Fay and Willie,
They're having heaps of fun;
He trails behind his "mother"
And she leads her little "son."

This last is Mister Lowery, see,
Miss Edgerton's the maid,
To see them we have waited long,
Don't you think that it has paid?

The hour is late; we cannot stay
To watch for ones more slow,
So wish for all that happiness
Attend where'er they go.

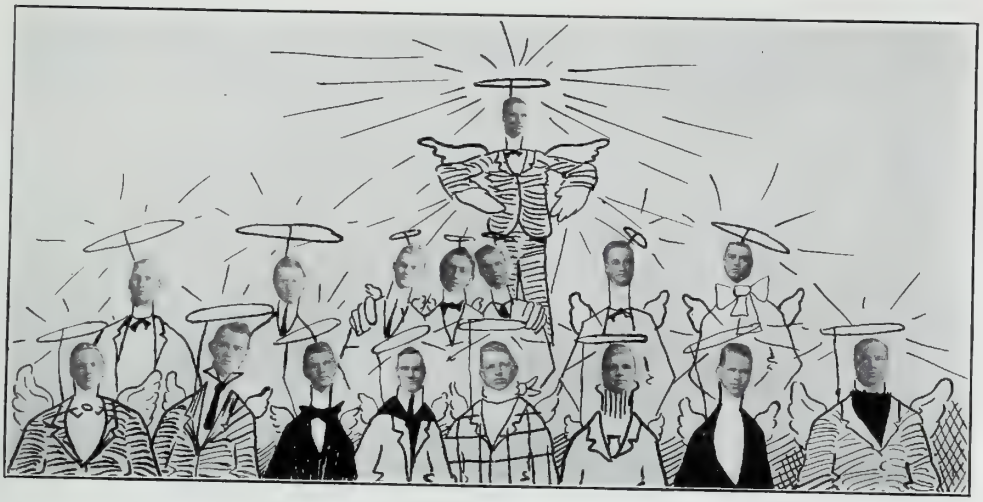

Now the verse is written out,
Read it straight without a pout
Read it nor the writer flout.

COMMUNICATIONS

DEAR ROTTGER:

Miss Bobbie Wright, over at the Chi Omega house, is afraid some one is going to send into the ILLIO a picture of her wearing her brother's suit, and wants you to see that it doesn't appear. It if comes in, will you please get hold of it and return it to Bobbie? Very sincerely,

DON TINCHER.

JOS. KUHN & SON,
Champaign, Ill.

GENTS:

I notice that you have published some pictures of popular Illinois men in your booklet. I think you should have included mine, too, for I think I stand pretty high among the student politicians, and then I've been to New York, so I know how to wear clothes the right way.

Very truly yours,
ARTHUR D. SAVAGE.

DEAR MR. CARTWRIGHT:

I tell you frankly that I believe it pays to be on the good side of the editor, and I most certainly want to be good friends with you now. There are so many things that people can roast me about that I'm really scared for fear they will do it; and if you're a friend of mine you won't put in any roasts about me, will you, Mr. Cartwright? Very sincerely yours,

MARY BARRY.

J. KUHN & Co., Champaign,

DEAR SIRS:

When next you get out a booklet of popular Illinois men, please don't forget me, for I honestly believe I'm one of the most popular men in the University. Last fall they elected me chief cheer leader, and a fellow has to be really popular to get that.

Very truly yours,
CHAS. ROBERTS.

MY DEAR MR. CARTWRIGHT:

I am sure you like fried chicken, so I am going to take advantage of it. If you'll promise not to put a single thing in next year's ILLIO about me, I'll promise to invite you to unlimited chicken-dinners, and I'll see that you get all the chicken you can eat, and a lot of other good things besides. Doesn't that sound good to you?

Very sincerely yours,
ALICE REDHED.

DEAR CARTY:

Say, will you be sure that all that dope about me gets in with my senior picture? You see, I think I'm the only man who has ever made those three committees—the Sophomore Cotillion, Junior Prom, and Senior Ball—and I want to be sure that they are all put in. Yours,

HERB HEDMAN.

DEAR MR. ROTTGER:

I am writing to you because I hear you're going to have a place on the ILLIO staff, and I wish you would see that nothing goes in about me being engaged. I know there are lots of people who are talking about it, but I cannot imagine where they got their information, for there is really nothing to it—yet.

If you will please see to this, Mr. Rottger, you will have the sincere thanks of

Yours sincerely,
MAMIE A. BALDWIN.

DEAR CARTWRIGHT:

If you are a friend of mine, would you just as soon cut out any roasts that come in about the Delts? I think we've got more than our share the last few years, and we'd like a rest, especially since we don't deserve the ones we do get.

I'd like to have you come over for dinner next Sunday, if you can.

Sincerely yours,
J. K. MOFFETT.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a very handsome young man, a senior in my state university, and very popular. Some time ago I became infatuated with a dashing chorus girl. Now, alas, she no longer seems so attractive to me. I became engaged to her and she will not release me. She follows me from place to place and makes life miserable. Tell me how I may rid myself of her.—H. E. KERKER."

You are a silly, self-satisfied person. Tell the girl you no longer care for her, and ask her to release you from the engagement.

SOME FUSS SINGLE OTHERS DOUBLE

LITTLE TALKS AMONG THE SISTERS

I—CHI OMEGA

Precious Kidlet and Sister Kyo:

I shall pilfer a few moments between dates to answer your last lettergram. The Omicron Chapter is in a supermagnorious condition this year. We copped the cream of the freshmen as usual. We've cut out the butterfly kids, and are going after the maids with the sky scraper brows. We've chopped the chorus effect and are trying to live down our past in spite of Bobby Wright, Floffie Johnson and Mary Hewitt. These girls are continually queering the game. Mary returned last fall wearing a Tau Nu Epsilon pin.

We haven't a prize bunch of petunias for the beauty show but we have the substantial girlies with the deep folds in their cerebrum.

That medal winning flock of scratching hens—the D. G's—started some sneaking gossip between semesters about a cab stopping in front of their house at 4 A. M. and a mysterious lady wearing a 26-inch willow plume, alighting and going through the D. G. back yard and entering Chi Omega's kitchen door. We went over in a body a few mornings ago, loaded with bricks and hair tongs and made that gang of suffragettes eat their gossip without the sauce. We are going to have a tug of war with our lovely neighbors, the D. G's, and believe me we are going to heave them into the boneyard and Isabel Clegg will sit on their necks.

Gee Kid, we almost landed a Delt date. We had Nig Healy booked for our annual but he had to leave school. Tinfoiled again. We are stronger than father's sox with the Dekes and Theta Delts. At the latter's annual, the decorations consisted chiefly of enlarged photographs of Ruth Lindberg, and festoons of forget-me-nots.

The girls are all sore on Peggy Dodds. All she does is to sit around and have oral hemorrhages about Georgie Newell. Her monologue is fatiguing.

Anna Landee aspired to be an apothecary blonde but made about a ten karat job of it.

Bobby Wright applies more kalsomine than ever to her countenance. When any of the girls want to do the leading lady act they make up with Bobbie's purple coat and Floffie's hat. Maybe we aint the procuring kids, wearing the boisterous hardware. We still use the famous standard Chi Omega perfume.

Here goes the scalpel kid.

With oodles of love,

Pearl Goben.

II—ALPHA DELTA PHI

Mrs. Truit Martin,
Exalted Secretary,
Alpha Delta Phi,

Dearest:

To all our sisters, girls, and other members of Alpha Delta Phi, we, in our first letter, send greetings. Luther Burbank is a wizard indeed, even if Doc Hottes says he isn't, but even Luther Burbank could never produce Alpha Delta Phi from Alfalfa. We have accomplished an unheard-of, increditable miracle. And we did some splendid hustling—why, we actually gave invitations for a spring reception before we had received the charter. And that reception was a dream. We all had such stunnng gowns. Their beauty was really transparent-er, we mean transcendant.

You'll all be tickled to death to hear what we've had. Some of the Alpha Delt fraternity tried to look peeved, but the dear boys will come around, all right. They can't help being proud to have such a bunch as we are under the same name. Some funny boy put some cute jokes about the coincidence in the Daily Illini, and Wilson McKim would not speak to anybody for a while, but we just know that at heart he's tickled to death. The Alpha Delt boys aren't such a bad bunch. Besides Wilson, they have the great Otto Seiler, and Bill Vosburgh, who not only is a fine swimmer, but is indeed a fish in every sense of the word. A regular whale, in fact.

We are simply too happy for words at the progress we have made, and next year we shall rise up and dazzle the whole university with the greatness of Alpha Delta Phi.

Yours lovingly,
Alice Cary Thayer

III—SIGMA KAPPA

Mrs. M. D. Linger,
Confirmed Secretary,
Sigma Kappa,

Affectionate Sister:

With mingled emotions, we write this letter to our sisters. We don't know whether to feel just happy, or sassy, or sacred. We're worried because we just know that some mean person will slip something in the Illio about our fancy dancing. Well, what of it? Doesn't everybody do it in high society. If we only hadn't forgotten to pull the curtains down. Lend us your sympathy, sisters, we need it.

We've had a pretty good year, except for a few unfortunate occurrences. The season opened auspiciously with Gladys Straight, Clara Brooks, Belle Williamson, and Harriet Erlbacher frequently with us. Gladys got herself a man out in her home town and has gone home.

We want to warn our sisters against a smooth graft that one of our sisters was the victim of. One of the Sigma Nu's called her up and asked her to the Law Dance, which happened to be on the night of our annual. Of course the dear girl was so tickled that she turned right around and asked him to our annual. We vehemently exhort our sisters to take up the next man that comes along with such a proposition, annual or no annual.

Yours peacefully,

Nell Tritt.*

*Peaceful now, but getting "Savage."

IV—ALPHA CHI OMEGA

HELEN M. HARDIE, Secretary of Alpha Chi Omega,

Beloved Sister:

No doubt our sisters in Alpha Chi Omega will be glad to hear that the old guard is still on the job at Illinois. We've come through the social season like a whirlwind. For instance, every girl in the chapter but three went to the Military Ball, and goodness knows it wasn't our fault that they didn't. And our annual dance, and annual tea will go down in history. Nearly everybody in the University comes around to see us now, and we're nice to all of them. What's the use of being exclusive?

THE LEFT OVERS

We're really sorry that our sister chapters haven't got an Ida Mae Shotwell or a Frances Kirkwood. Ida was incautious enough to get engaged, but perhaps we can break her of that.

One of our sweetest freshmen, Sister Boyd, has got the cutest brother. And he's so killingly bashful. He just won't come around—even turned down the annual.

We hated to lose Lettie Busey, but still we don't blame her for getting married. She's got a husband that'll always produce the meat and potatoes.

Anyway, we've still got Nan Walcott and Grace Bacon, so three cheers for Alpha Chi.

Yours forever,

LOUISE ARMSTRONG.

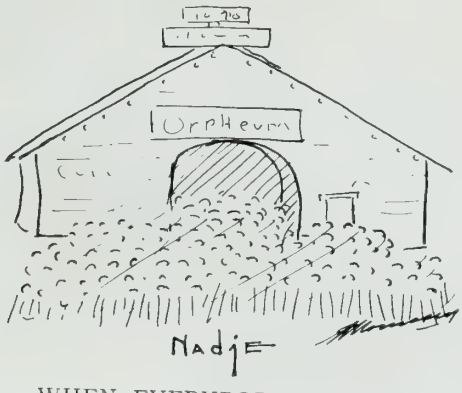

OUR CONSTANT COMPANION

DANCES

Dances are of two kinds: those where people have a good time and those attended by the dean of women.

At club dances people dance the "turkey-trot" and "bear-cat," while at house parties, sorority girls are taught these achievements by proficient swains, while chaperons are looking for the hall in Jake Stahl's famous home run picture.

WHEN EVERYBODY ATTENDS

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

V—PI BETA PHI

CHAMPAIGN, on the Boneyard. March 25, 1912.

DEAR "HAP":

Yep, the Thetas are still in the ring. 'Course, owning their own house they didn't have to corral as many of the fair seekers of romance as your erstwhile pals, the Pi Phis.

You will chuck yourself in the ribs to hear that more than the usual number of the old Janes were at the ring side when the gong sounded—seven—whoops, my dear. What a bunch! Some says more could have come back but I has my doubts. Peggy Douglas blew in bright and early, sort of expecting Ed Lyons to show up for the football season, but there wasn't no gasoline smell around. And so Peggy vanished for parts unknown.

'Nother of the old guard, Fuzz Brown, has been hanging around sort of intermittently. She's gone again now.

'Member Katy Saxton? Well the poor kid went home. Entered in the fall and paid her fees, too. Zip, went another acre of the old farm. I ain't quite got her case doped out but she had one of those rooms fronting on the Kappa Sig house and they do say that it's a nervous life.

You'd sure die to get your peepers on that old Skeet Blaisdell. His schedule is so full of fussing that it sounds like a sloe-gin-fiz. Does everything but pay board. Had a lease on the den for the winter season but the team's practicing out doors now.

It may hold your attention for a while to know that Phoebe James was to sing in the Choral aggregation but she got peevish when they gave her a seat with the basses. Herb Hedman is managing the track team and Lil Noth. Some lad for speed, eh! The track team has one night stands but O YOU LIL!

BOYS WILL BE GIRLS

And say would you believe it, they are mixing up in politics, too! Mag Webber is going to be the May-pole.

Went out to the old tank town to spend a week last summer. About the first thing I set my eyes on as I climbed up the evening rattler was a tri-colored lithograph of the Riner Twins. Always knew they could do it. There's to them Riner girlies.

Now to be candid, old man, they have got some good ones in the yearling bunch and they ought to show form next season; but since this the Alpha Delts got a sheep-skin, I haven't had time to investigate. Will pass along a line of dope on the Thetas in my next. Good luck.

Ever Your Loving Ex-Roomy,
I. M. GAME.

VI—KAPPA ALPHA THETA

DEAR OLD SOX: URBANA, ILL., April 10, 1912.

You will please note the change of apartments. The new place has two windows and four books. A regular room! I really didn't want to change but I expect that I ought to have been canned out of the last joint I called home 'cause I got reckless one night and with fitting ceremonies hung a picture of a Theta, done in color, up over the bureau. "Strike me blind" says the old girl that cleans my stall. "Burning lights all day." Never knew Arete Covey, did you? Some bright top that girl's got.

Speaking of the Thetas reminds me that you asked to have the dope. Strike up the classical music, professor. Off with the Bear-cat and on with the dance.

Giggers, here comes the cop, one deaness of women, by name of Mary Eliza Fawcett, A.M. (meaning stop the dance in the morning). Believe me the police censors of Berlin have got nothing on her. Her cry for order on the dance floor sounds like Tite Wads at 7:45. She rules them with a slippery elm club.

You'd a died, old top, to have been at the Military Ball. Big Kit Planck was leading. She's the hen colonel of the regiment this year and P. Kircher is on the night shift, running the Theta furnace. She gave Mag Webber, the Pi Phi, an awful run for the May-pole job.

Believe me, the Thetas had the makings of a heavy weight in B, B meaning Beef Copley.

They tell me—confidentially, of course—that they've got Marg Spaulding corralled for next season's branding. They had her signed up for this season but she didn't hop the kindergarten fence and is still in High School. We are praying in bunches that she can learn her arithmetic by June so she can be a college girl next year. Also she can count her dates for the Theta records.

Taint very often that I fall for a Jane but when I do I like to make good. Kind of hurts not to place, 'specially in the minor league. What I mean is this: that Harris girl has got me going gally west on a cyclone.

A compromise is under consideration whereby Copley and Mather even up a bit, sort of distribute the weight, you know. Beefy is bound to take on a few pounds. She weighs in at 98, unattached now.

Dan Swannell is co-operating with Ag Porter—you remember the girl with the Goddess of Liberty carriage and the Belinda the beautiful Boiler Maker get-up. Seems that they weren't dying off very fast down at Olney and the ready remittance failed to materialize but Ag knew that Heaven would protect the working girl and took a chance at combing her blond switch with one hand while she balanced a bottle of Rexall Bleacher in the other, for the benefit of the loafers outside Swannell's window.

You will be glad to hear about Amy Overland. Yes, she's still here. She holds the record (ladies varsity) for the Marathon walk. She's got the azure orbs on the Police Gazette Medal for fancy diving when the natatorium is built in the women's building.

Again your loving Ex-Roomer,
I. M. GAME.

LOWERY AND MISS EDGERTON

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

VII—DELTA GAMMA

My Dear Degee:

Before I vacate my cherished throne to partake of the peaceful and soothing slumbers, I must unravel to you the cognitions which arise in my cerebrum. Iota chapter prepared for the strenuous activity of the year by a careful selection of freshmen. Julia's success as rushing captain has been as profitable as has been her popularity.

I am afraid, however, that our beloved and cherished trophy cup will overflow with more freshmen names that we can handle. Sylvia Casey has already contracted with the engraver and her name will head the list. After two years of industry and wearisome toil, she has obtained the requisite standing of an unsophisticated freshman. Her latest pursuit is in an entirely new field. Not satisfied with the monotonous and contemptible humdrum of local fortune seekers, she has now unearthed a new suitor through the local headquarters of a matrimonial agency.

Say Kid, have you heard of our two Delt pledges? Cutt was here so much that it was absolutely necessary to pledge him. But Cutt is as strong for us as Bobby Wright's refreshments, and unless some peroxide blond enters our mystic circle, his presence will not be lost. The other harmless and modest flunky is Johnnie Johnson from Posey County. In his own mind he is about the strongest D. G. man along John Street.

At our last meeting the question of having open house was discussed, but the idea was discouraged, due to the meager furnishing in the house. Until the Sigma Chi's replace the chairs they demolished, entertainment will be impossible.

Our chaperon is a peach. She surprised the entire chapter a short time ago by ringing the bell at ten o'clock. She sleeps here almost every night.

Verna Cooper is our most popular girl. Whether it is her airy warble or glistening eyes, we are all benighted. Helen Gere tickles the ivories for us while Dorothy Dorner carols automatically.

Arrogantly yours,

Johnnie Littlejohn.

VIII—ALPHA XI DELTA

CARRIE, OLD GIRL:

Dead wouldn't hardly be the word to describe Alpha Xi Delta this year. It is positively stagnant. Of course we took in the normal number of beautiful girlies this fall—but they couldn't climb up to the old bunch of Alpha Xi babes. Do you remember the tug of war the Phi Gams had over Eva Dedrick at one of our Tuesday nights? Well, we can't even have our harmless little Tuesday night dances any more. Now ask me—is Alpha Xi dead? Yes.

I am sorry you couldn't be here for our formal. I never saw such a maddening sizzle of delight before in my life. Why, Carrie, every man on the floor was gagging for joy at the sight. I never saw our buxom little Eva Fisher look so beautiful, and Ruth Whittaker was like one long joyful, gurgling drink of pop. I guess Alpha Xi is rather bucking up and wading out of the mire, allright. Our sister, Byrnie Goodman, made Phi Beta Kappa. Did you ever hear any noise like Phi Beta Kappa in those old days? Of course not.

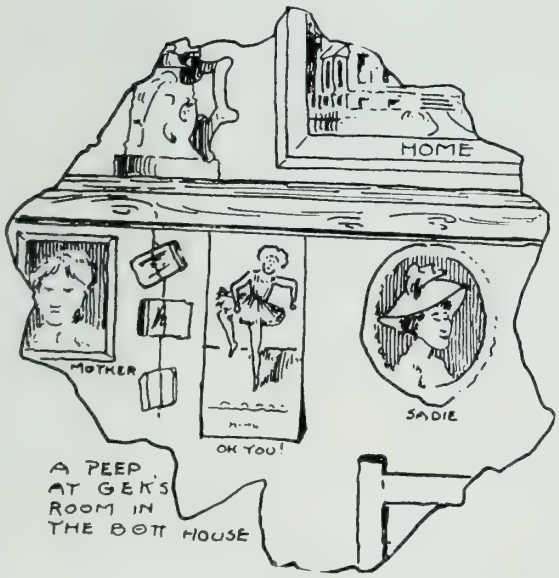

The boys have been awfully nice to us this year, even if we can't dance any more. We are serenaded nearly every warm evening by at least one boarding club. Then one night two Tekes came over and took turns singing under Mrs. Gaut's window. I guess they really thought it was Nell Hedrick's room, as she is the only one that knows them.

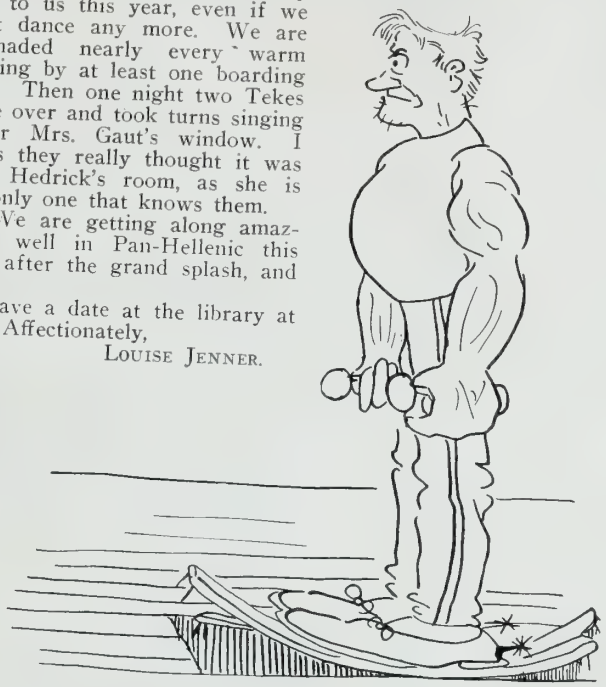

We are getting along amazingly well in Pan-Hellenic this year. Not one Alpha Xi curl was missing after the grand splash, and that's going some.

Well, Honey, it's seven o'clock, and I have a date at the library at 7:15.

Affectionately,

LOUISE JENNER.

Girton registers for P. G.

IX—KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

ANNO DOMINO, 1912.

REVERED COMRAD:

I must indite an epistle to inform you that the Beta Lambda Chapter is in the throes of a calamitous catastrophe and is suffering from fractured cardiacs. Prepare for the worst, dear—not one of our seniors made Phi Beta Kappa. However we have not lost our drag with the faculty, they being outnumbered at our annual only by the Phi Gams.

Some of our Coterie had a tendency to become worldly minded early in the season, abandoning our favorite pastime of checkers and bean bags to master the fundamental principals of poker. The equipment for this game was presented to us by the D. U's but in a few days they requested the return of the same and thus the dignity of the chapter was saved from contamdemnation.

We are now launched on the correct career. Florence Hall, Alice Redhed and Helen Abbott are settlement workers. Mabel McIntyre, Betty Boyers and Margaret Dupuy are members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. Fay Armstrong is our only wayward and irrepressible one. But then you know she is not true Kappa type. She ought to have been a Chi Omega or a Pi Phi.

We are cautious as ever about forming acquaintances with the males. A man must present his childhood certificate of attendance to Sunday School and a Y. M. C. A. membership card before he obtains good standing with the Kappas.

We gave a crocheting and embroidering party last Friday night, the Phi Gams being the honorable guests.

Tag, our lady Sherlocko and Nemesis of thieves has had her heart stolen away and we are now casting about for a new chaperone. Helen Abbott is acting as self appointed guardian.

We are having open house now every Sunday and are meeting with magnificent success. The masculines seem to appreciate the quality of our commissary department, judging from the quantities of food-stuffs consumed on Sunday afternoons.

Art Simpson, Steve Claflin and Brother Mounts are included in our fixtures this year. We are all feverish with a desire to know what has become with the Phi Psi drag.

The D. U's are now classed with the impossible. The report came to us that one of them was caught drinking a bottle of ginger ale. We are boycotting them now as we do not approve of such debauchery.

Margaret Dupuy, Amelia Gay, Betty Boyers and myself are denying ourselves of Spearmint and are hoarding our money to buy a new dress next year. We expect to startle the entire chapter by our up-to-dateness by purchasing at least 1902 models.

Departing from custom this year we did not reject rushees who possessed curves, symmetry, dimples and complexion. Angles and homespun features are no longer held to be a virtue.

I fear that I have been too loquacious and will desist.

Yours very humbly,
ALICE REDHED.

X—ALPHA OMICRON PI

MISS BLANCHE COOPER,
Grand Secretary of Alpha Omicron Pi,

DEAREST SISTER:

Alpha Omicron Pi can hardly boast of a better chapter than Iota of Illinois. We have a lovely frat house, and we entertain male callers every now and then. It's nice to be quiet and seclusive. These other sororities are gadding around all the time, but Alpha Omicron Pi will get 'em yet—just remember the story of the turtle and the hare. Even this year we made 'em sit up and take notice by giving the first annual of the season. That was some annual too. We had the letters Alpha Omicron Pi in electric lights and everything.

The class of boys we go with is beyond reproach. Every one of them is a regular fiend for study, and will stand without hitching anywhere. We haven't much to offer in the way of news. We are quietly working for Alpha Omicron Pi, and in a year or two we will break in with one big splash. Watch this Space!

Yours for the Sisterhood,
ETTA LANTZ.

RULES FOR THE PAN-HELLENIC ASSOCIATION FOR MEN

OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

At the regular meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Association of the University of Illinois, held in 1912, the following rules were adopted for the school year of 1912-'13.

1. Pledge day shall be the ninth Saturday after registration, providing there are any frats left.

2. None shall be allowed to have any but all-night or breakfast dates with a rushee.

3. No dates with more rushees than can be accommodated.

4. Each freshman when initiated shall carry at least military and P. T.

5. After a rushee has been entertained once, it shall furnish its own cigarettes.

6. A pledge can only be broken by petition to the President of the University and the Dean of Women.

7. Rushees may not call upon sisters, cousins or sweethearts of active members.

8. Kissing rushees before pledge day is positively prohibited.

9. However any active members seen without arms about rushee will be subject to Pan-Hell reprimand.

10. An appeal may be made to the local Pan-Hellenic for the consideration of any exception to these rules.

SOME SOCIAL EVENTS

APRIL 1—All Fool's Day. Announcement of semester exams; this is no joke. Brewers can't play well in a dry town; we win, 5 to 2.

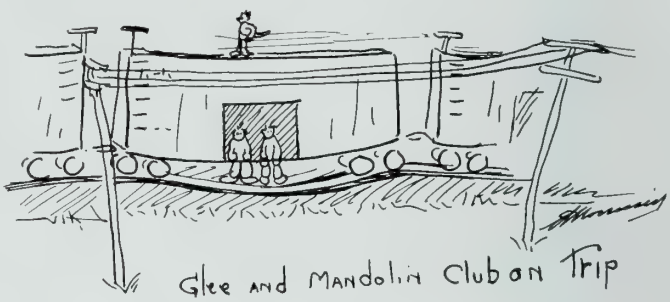

APRIL 8—Players Club presents "Our Boys"; one of them, Thatcher Guild, by name, rivals E. H. Sothern.

APRIL 11—Glee and Mandolin Clubs start on trip. "Sorry sir, we can't rent you a dress suit at present; they're all out."

APRIL 13—Pi Phis win sorority contest. "Aren't we the witty things, though?"

APRIL 22—For the second time in two days, Iowa takes the bitter medicine from Dr. Huff.

APRIL 26—Leo G's automobile (?) takes to asthetic dancing and does a "Hieland Fling" from the Law Building down Burrill Avenue.

MAY 2—Sigma Chi warns Kappa Kappa Gamma to lower their window shades.

May 3—Professor Dodge purchases a haircut. Butz knocks it a mile in the eleventh and the Maroons are again humbled.

MAY 8—Helmet initiates furnish a little amusement.
Illinois Union holds banquet. "I'm still hungry, let's beat it over to Tite's and get something to eat."

MAY 9—Sigma Chi House party: Kappa Kappa Gamma serves notice on them that the shades are up.

MAY 17—Sigma Xi elections. "If I'd made Tau Beta and Phi Beta Kappa, I could wear 'em all on a fob like Blondy Noerenberg does."

MAY 18—Dope sheet out. Some dope!
Girl's Stunt Show. Ralph Scott offers $5 for a seat on front row.

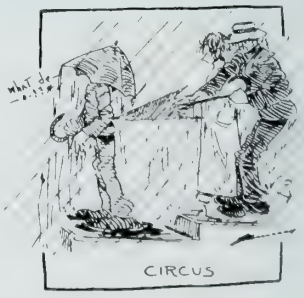

MAY 19—Interscholastic. Why not pledge the prospective freshmen now and save the trouble of it the following September?
Certain men break into print in Hipp Jordan's list of unpaid Illini subscribers.

MAY 20—CIRCUS!?—It pours! "Would you kindly turn that umbrella around so the water won't drip off of it and run down my neck?"

MAY 25—Slowfoot Bill elected swimming captain.

MAY 27—Enough goobers at Ag Peanut Banquet to supply all the Chicago baseball fans for two seasons.

MAY 30—Automobile races at Indianapolis. "I'll tell you fellows, I'd go but I haven't any cuts left so late in the year."

Prexy leaves for Europe.

NOV. 15—Sophs satisfy their desire for an emblem by choosing stick pins with numerals on it; 24 carat sterling silver, too.

NOV. 22—Architects dine at Y. M. C. A. Hutchins tells a story.

NOV. 21—Big line for Minnesota ticket sale begins at 7 P. M. About 2 A. M. compliments of all sorts were offered to Tommy Thompson.

Seniors burn up two really good dummies and then suffer defeat by the Sophs.

Chicago papers declare that we tried to burn the Orpheum. For behold, what was only a speck on the horizon, the Chicago papers have made a cyclone cloud.

NOV. 25—Minnesota game—at least we weren't defeated 30 to 0, as was one of our dear friends.

NOV. 29—University professors disagree with Carnegie in his choice of the "World's Twenty Greatest Men." How did he happen to leave out Woodrow Wilson?

DEC. 6—Rathbun puts up a strong fight for Varsity football manager and wins. "I tell you, you can't keep a good man down." Prexy is in Europe; Burrill at Illinois Alumni Meeting in Pittsburg; Kinley at Rivers and Harbors Convention at Washington. Say? who's running this University now, anyhow? Pete?

Armory floor being improved (?) for the Prom.

Dec. 12—Girls have a doll show at the Association house. "O-o-oh, see my 'ittle dolly; aint 'im tute an' tunnin'?"

DEC. 15—Seniors hold smoker and boxing match. What if they had arrested the whole bunch!

JAN. 3—We return. Give us this day our daily work.

JAN. 4—Mercury sinks to depths unknown; sighted by a member of the C. E. department at 22 degrees south of zero.

JAN. 7—Blowout at the Beta House. Jiles Keithley makes a galant rescue; his measurements are forwarded to Andy Carnegie for a leather medal.

JAN. 9—First call for Senior pictures for the ILLIO. One dollar, please.

JAN. 9—Miss Ruby Rothner of the "Merry Mary" company is visiting at the Delta Gamma house.

JAN. 10—Miss Goebel and Professor Beck take a stroll on South Campus. Eighteen degrees below, brr-r--r--. Lights in Gym go out.

JAN. 11—Ag. Glee Club takes a trip to Litchfield. Why, theatrical ability is not our only line of development.

JAN. 12—Sophs flirt with My Lady Nicotine.

JAN. 13—Tilton, Smith, Duhadway, M'Birnie, Gross, and Wagner entertain their class at a smoker—for twenty-five cents per head.

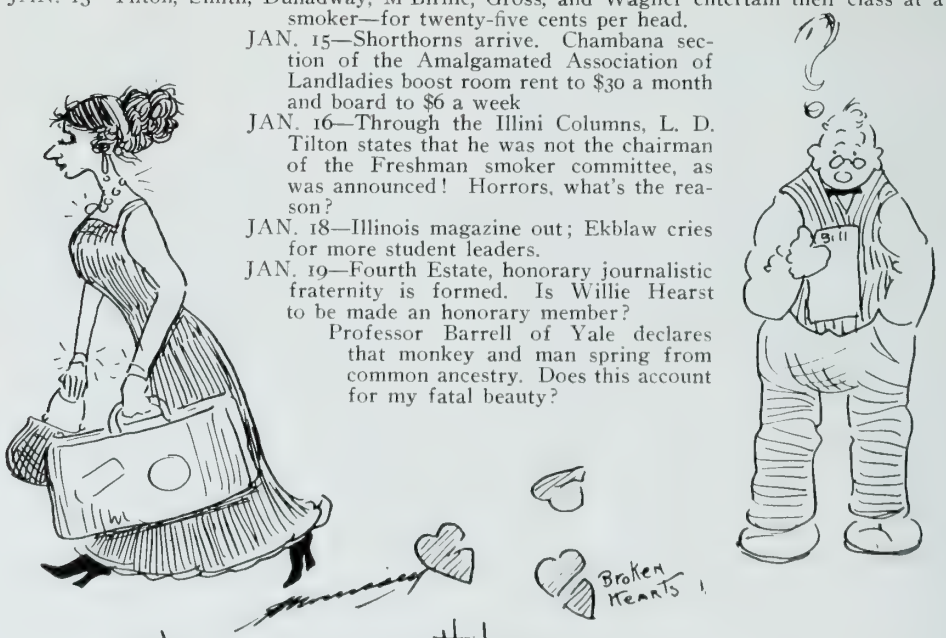

JAN. 15—Shorthorns arrive. Chambana section of the Amalgamated Association of Landladies boost room rent to $30 a month and board to $6 a week

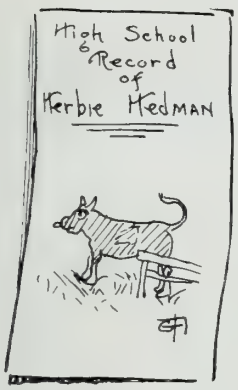

JAN. 16—Through the Illini Columns, L. D. Tilton states that he was not the chairman of the Freshman smoker committee, as was announced! Horrors, what's the reason?

JAN. 18—Illinois magazine out; Ekblaw cries for more student leaders.

JAN. 19—Fourth Estate, honorary journalistic fraternity is formed. Is Willie Hearst to be made an honorary member?

Professor Barrell of Yale declares that monkey and man spring from common ancestry. Does this account for my fatal beauty?

JAN. 20—Professor Blondheim attends grand opera; attired in evening dress he marches down the main aisle but unconsciously forgets to remove his ear-muffs. Professor Dodge procures second haircut of season.

Margy Dodd's mamma is looking after her for a few days.

Athletic questionairre sent out; you should have seen Herbie Hedman's high school records.

JAN. 21—Entire editorial page of Illini turned over to articles on Ekblaw's policies. Hippo and T. N. E. to the front.

JAN. 25—Exams; nothing funny in this.

JAN. 26—Stagg decides against summer baseball.

JAN. 27—Shorthorns leave; board gets better.

JAN. 29—Annual fire at the Alpha Omicron house. If leap year and a fire prove of no avail, what then?

FEB. 2—Sophs hold cotillion. Small crowd; great fear entertained that the committee will lose money.

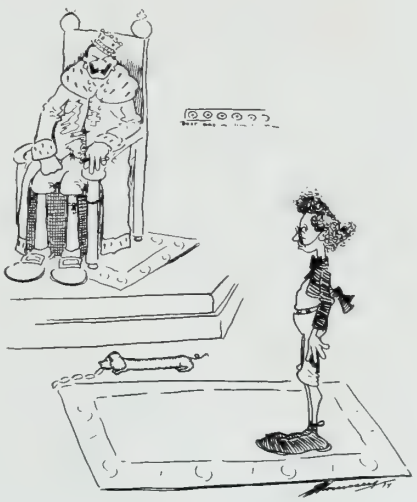

Post-exam jubilee—Monk Remmel displays himself as the "Bear Cat Artist." Tau Kappa Epsilon installed. "I'll be getting the Tekes and Dekes mixed, first thing.

FEB. 7—Prexy chaws pretzles with Kaiser Bilhelm.

FEB. 8—Dope Sheet Red of Wisconsin back again. Welcome to our pity.

FEB. 9—J. Ham Lewis visits the University and displays his immaculate and stunning habidashery. Kappa Sigs supply themselves with brilliant cravats.

Teddy Rex wins the straw vote; professors jubilant.

FEB. 10—Illini defeat Mr. Lawler of Minnesota. Bill Vosburgh's bunch of sharks splash water in the Maroon swimmer's eyes.

FEB. 12—C. S. Roberts is elected to the responsible position of sheriff of the mutt, no, moot court.

Pete, alias Slim Daugherty, gets his Greek alphabet mixed up and calls at Alpha Chi house instead of the Chi Omega. "Pardon me, why-y-y, I guess I made a mistake.

FEB. 13—Bull, Wooly, Murph, Nap, Thomas, Slowfoot Bill, and Case, as popular Ilinois men, sit as models for the Society Brand Clothes.

Chet Fisher, Gregory Vigeant, and Red Worsham feel slighted because they were not let in on the free suit deal. Immediately Slig, Lubin, and Edison try to get the seven men to pose for their respective motion picture concerns.

FEB. 14—Tryouts for Student Opera. "Did you ever see Adelaide Genee; well, she doesn't dance anything like I do.

FEB. 17—Varsity and Babes occasion an expression of hatred from Pat Page after indoor meet with Maroons.

FEB. 19—Junior election; treasury enriched by about nine dollars.

FEB. 22—Someone said that it was Washington's birthday. We never realized it until we went down to the bank to see how much we had overdrawn.
Senior election; Paul Fritchee trees a coon; Charlie "hangs it on!"

FEB. 23—Tau Bets announced, "If I hadn't got that low grade in Rhetoric in my freshman year, why ——."
Military Ball. "That dangling saber keeps bothering me every step I take." Sirens put on sale by the "honor system." A cent makes as much or more noise than a dime when dropped in a box.

FEB. 26—Band on its trip; Vic Mathis almost signs up with the hotel manager as bellhop.

FEB. 27—New system of interclass athletics under discussion.
Another soph election; competition very keen; two candidates for the office of vice-president.

FEB. 28—Prexy returns from Europe and Berlin.
Phi Beta Kappa isn't so much of a sorority this year; nine of the nineteen are men.
Margaret Taggart plunges into the slush.

Mumps and German measles invade the University; whether or not Prexy brought the measles back from Deutschland, we cannot say.

FEB. 29—Extra day; consequently we worked (?) extra hard.

MARCH 1—The new University catalog, a trifle larger than that of Sears, Roebuck & Co., is ready for distribution.

MARCH 5—Alpha Omicrons win sorority roast contest. Are they responsible?

MARCH 5—Don Cushing calls on Crystal Hammer in full dress.

Monroe, Ellison, Kastel, Willmore, and Griffith take bar exam and are given permission to charge for their services.

ILLIO electioneering becomes intense. "Pardon me, I thought that fellows roomed here; by the way, how are you girls voting?"

Wave of reform started; no more "raggy" two-steps on dance programs.

MARCH 7—Class Day officers elected. (Over the phone): "Hello, is this Cartwright? This is Goebel. Say, if it isn't too late to get it in the ILLIO, I want you to add Class Poet to my record.

MARCH 8—Delta Gamma Formal.

MARCH 12—Petition for withdrawal from the Conference is circulated.

ILLIO election. "We are men of few words," replied the trio of Petes, (Vandercook, Wright, and Daugherty).

MARCH 13—E. A. Williford acquires the exalted position of freshman class president.

Rousing mass-meeting for conference reform.

MARCH 13—Reform wave spreads. Cheap vaudeville put under the official microscope.

MARCH 15—"Herbie" Harwood, in possession of one of those collapsible hats, attends the Alpha Chi formal.

MARCH 16—Hibernians hold banquet in honor of good ould Saint Pat.

MARCH 17—How dear to our hearts—the announcement of drill twice a week and advanced maneuvers in the spring!

MARCH 18—Dahringer elected basketball captain. Spring celebration; freshmen storm the Orpheum; something scandalous—according to the Chicago papers.

MARCH 19—Alpha Delta Phi takes a liking to Illinawah and takes in the Alpha Alphas. Oh, you Alpha Delta Phi "fratority!"

Just to make one appreciate Spring, the weather man hands us some more winter.

MARCH 19—F. K. W. Drury speaks on "The Art of Making Up," at Philo Hall; many beauty secrets, which are unknown to Lillian Russell, are brought to light.

MARCH 21—Chicago papers assert that the "Big Eight" is no more. Alas, poor conference, I knew him well; he was a "staggy" guy.

MARCH 23—Ags demonstrate their honesty and make up the deficiency in the Siren box. Competition between the two schools is now becoming keen as to the honor system.

MARCH 25—Preparations started for the Dope Sheet; prominent fussers begin to tremble.

MARCH 28—"Wet or dry?" "Why, just comb it dry." Tickets for the Engineering Dance last about as long as a fifty-yard dash.

Alpha Alpha initiated into Alpha Delta Phi.

As it will read in the future: Alpha Delta Phi entertained Dean Fawcett at a tea this afternoon.

Alpha Delta Phi and the Sigma Nu freshmen will hold a tug of war across the Boneyard this afternoon.

MARCH 29—Law Dance.

"What do you think of the decorative effect of the baseball cage?"

"Gee, and I ordered the cab for 1:45."

(During the last two dark encores): "Say, gimme a match, I want to look at my program."

MARCH 29—Helen Fairfield and a noted celebrity from Germany, practice squeeze plays on the Kappa porch in view of the whole Phi Gam chapter.

MARCH 30—Sigma Kappa announces the pledging of Art Savage. We understand, now Art, why the roast section has been neglected.

THE NEW DESIGNS

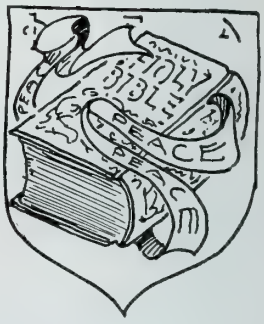

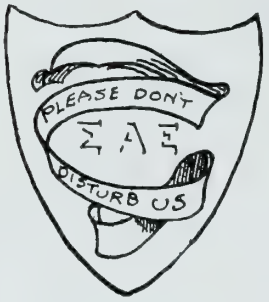

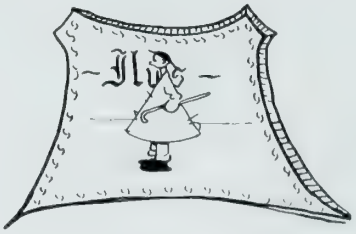

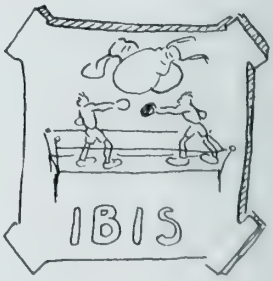

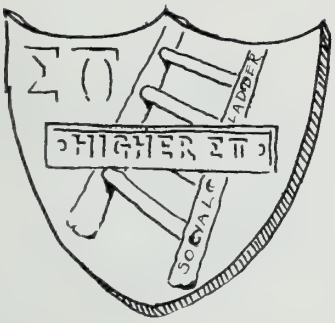

"Gold, gold, gold that men have bled and died for and right here before me very eyes," were the startling words uttered by Heine Bloebaum as he picked up a pocket-book in front of the Library. "Please Mister, would you be so kind as to return my purse," this from a tall lady in black, directly behind Heine. "Why sure, lady, I hain't got no use for money. Didn't you know that I was chairman of the Sophomore Cotillion?"

They pick on me because I am little.

I ain't much on fussin' but about once a month I "floss" up and step out. Once I used that durned Beta telephone to sort a fix up some matrimonial future, and get "hep" to a maid over at the Alphi Chi hash house. I intimated that I would drop around soon, and so at about three bells I blew. A "purty" fair lookin' maid met me at the door and when I asked her for the girl she informed me that she was not there, but I reckoned she would return soon so I told the girl that I would just wait. I set around about two hours and got up and went home to "grub" out a batch of sympathy from Harwood. He's purty well up on the whereabouts of the members of the fair sex. Weel he put me wise to the fact that I had been "settin'" around in the Chi Omega House.

GAY young maid quite sedate,
Has been seen on the campus of late
Wearing a Phi Sigma Kappa pin
Which shows she has been Engaged since November the eighth.

PHI KAPPA GAMMA FRATERNITY MYSTERY SOLVED

Jealousy the Cause—Freshmen Gives Out The Information

The dark and gloomy mystery which has for months hung heavily upon the Beta Lambda Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and the one to which Miss Redhed referred in her recent communication to Miss Llewellyn, has at last come to light.

It seems that on or about October 8, 1911, a cooking and sewing party was given by the local chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma to the intimate friends and brothers of the girls. Although six Phi Gams, two Acacias and one Phi Sigma Kappa (and even two non-fraternity men) were there, not a single brother Phi Kappa Gamma was invited.

Further jealousy was instilled into the souls of the suspecting brothers when the Kappas adopted the custom of giving birthday dinners to certain boy friends. Here again the brothers in Phi Kappa Gamma were left out in the cold. Freshmen from less important organizations received the favors from the capricious co-eds. A further investigation will probably show that the Phi Kappa Psi's are more to blame than it at present seems. It is hoped that a peaceful acquiescence will be made and the honorable order maintained. If no settlement is made soon it is feared the case will be taken to the divorce courts.—Boneyard Dispatch.

KNOT-HOLE ESSAYS

College Engagements

Engagements may be either college or otherwise. If otherwise, they do not immediately concern us, for they have no place in the affairs of a college man, much less in the affairs of a college girl; also, if they are otherwise, they are real, and we have a horror of the real thing.

A college engagement is a sort of a disease of college life, much as measles is a disease of childhood, and is as essential to a college student's ultimate success as University graft is to Pete Adams' or as sunburned shrubbery is to Doc. Dodge's personality. When we look upon the fair visages of Hetty Green, of Heinrichsen, of Jimmie James, we cannot help but be impressed with the sublimity and grandeur of the grand passion as expressed in college engagements, and with its impelling force for good in the development of brutal natures.

Engagements made in college are more interesting but less permanent than those made in heaven. Their outcome varies, is extremely doubtful, and can never in the least be prognosticated. They sometimes serve as vacation experiences, which enable the experienced one to land a life-time snap later on, when interest is of less and permanency of more value. Then again, anyone that is engaged need never worry about not having a dance-date, which may or not be advantageous, depending upon circumstances, finances, and weather. Another benefit to be derived from this state of blessedness is the facility with which dance-programs can be filled out. The ten o'clock disappearance bell does not ring for engaged couples. But above all, the greatest joy which accompanies the proposition, June Crossland tells us, is the unlimited opportunity for mooning and spooning, which a real college engagement gives.

AT THE SENIOR SMOKER

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

MILITARY

Military—the freshman's pride, the sophomore's disgust, the junior's disdain, the senior's humorous recollection.

The cup of the freshman's joy does not achieve its full capacity of running over until he prances proudly up to the gun crib, all gaily bedecked in his glove-fitting suit of sky blue gray, seizes his gun, and proudly goes forth to war on Burrill Avenue. As soon as war is over, he mounts a street car, hies himself to Renne's, and lo and behold, he emerges a photographed man. How pleasant are the thoughts of the admiration and delight with which the pictures are received at home, of the proud and loving contemplation of the picture by the girl!

Alas! pride goeth before a fall. Within two years, the haughty freshman mentioned above has conceived a dislike for Military which amounts almost to violence, and swears, as he casts the beautiful uniform from him at the close of company competitive, that he'll "never wear the confounded thing again."

But he is wrong to condemn the war training so wisely delegated to us. Think of its advantages! A co-ed will make a date with a uniform before she will make one with a man. A street-car will stop before the resistless advance of blue-shirted preps. Prexie's receptions are chaperoned by the officers' uniforms. Military day gives the whole University a holiday. Even ye editor, being a color-bearer, doesn't have to drill except at regimental.

Another thing to consider it that though freshmen may come, and freshmen may go, military goes on forever.

DISCOVERED

Among the scraps of the senior records we find that C. L. Simons, Theta Delta Chi, shares with Herbie Hedman the honor of having made the three dance committees, Soph Cotillion, Junior Prom, and Senior Ball.

We will now consult the Muses
And dope out something nice
For our portly business magnate,
That money-chasing Ice.

Ice always was a cool one,
Who fills 'em all with awe,
And we'll have another ocean
When he begins to thaw.

AND STILL MARGARET TALKS

When our college days have fleeted
And we're out on life's dark ways,
We will think of Arthur Savage
And the good old Rah! Rah! days.

Two thousand students knew him
And greeted him by name,
But Artie only nodded
Which seems to us a shame

That one so warmly greeted
And worshipped near and far,
Should overlook the kidding
And think he's popular

Souvenirs here for them

Most everyone wants some little thing as a remembrance.

Quite inexpensive, ours are, and quite attractive, and quite "the thing."

They comprise a great variety of University pins in gold and silver, belt pins, fobs, hat pins and an assortment of sterling spoons with either the buildings or seal on handle and the cost would not stop anyone from owning one of them.

To the Roast Editors

Gentlemen----I have been personally managing the great product of my wit, "The School for Scandal" for the past year, and I believe I am qualified to receive the handsome as First Prize in the Illio Roast Contest. If you will notice my contributions turned in to you on December 20, January 10 and February 4 you will find that they are very humorous. My roasts on the sororities and girls in general are particularly funny and true to life for I have spent many nights in peeping in the windows of the various sorority houses.

I am beyond a doubt the greatest humorist and actor at Illinois and I firmly believe that I should get the Roast Prize.

A Word from the Printer

THIS BOOK is the product of a plant built and organized for the one purpose of serving the college and its people. Long experience in this field has enabled it to attain a degree of efficiency far beyond possibility in a general printing establishment. The atmosphere is different. There is a familiarity with the college annual that makes smooth the progress of such a book through every stage of its development.

Here also is the home of over thirty Greek-letter and collegiate publications. The editors' needs are anticipated by men who know them through knowledge of the college life and college things. It is The Collegiate Press, because it is in the hands of college people, working for college people.

That Persuasive, Fascinating Flavor in Oatmeal

Have you ever thought how lavish Nature is with oats?

She has made them a better body, brain and nerve builder than any other grain that grows. She has crowded the oat with more digestible protein, organic phosphorus and lecithin than any other cereal—a vim-producer and energy yielder —beyond anything we know.

And, to climax all, she has given oatmeal that fascinating flavor. It's the best-liked cereal which comes to our morning table

Thus the elements needed for the growing child are made enticing to it. The vital foods for growth, work, play and study are made the most attractive.

Quaker Oats

But the finest flavor lies in rich, plump, luscious oats. So we select those oats by 62 separate siftings. We get but ten pounds of Quaker Oats from a bushel.

These selected oats, prepared by our process, form the finest oat food in existence. The cost dispite its quality, is but one-half cent per dish.

Regular size package 10 cents

Family size package, for smaller cities and country trade 25 cents

The prices noted do not apply in the extreme West or South

Pi Phi Rules For Eating

1. Do not place wads of chewing gum on the under side of the tables for they are weak and will not stand the strain. If you have not a handkerchief in which to place it roll it into a neat ball and take with water.
2. When you unfold the napkins do not wave them in the air as this disturbs the flies on the ceiling.
3. Never wave the knife around in the air for this is dangerous and besides the knife is only to eat peas with.
4. Never talk with the mouth full as then you miss the full flavor of the food.
5. If you cannot find room on the table for your knife gently balance it on the shoulder of the sister sitting next to you.
6. Never drum on the table with your fingers or the silverware. It is easier to make noise by scraping your chair back and forth.
7. When the finger bowls are passed do not ask for soap and a towel.
8. When you spill something on the table cloth calmly place your left elbow over it.

The Store For All The People

We believe that stores like this one owe something to the public beyond the mere gathering and selling of merchandise.

We believe that the big store of today has no business selling poor goods, no matter whether the buyer has discerning judgment or not.

We believe it is the duty of a store to make sure its goods are worthy before they reach its counters.

We have carried this principle to extreme, perhaps—as few stores are as careful as we are.

But we know that the public appreciate our efforts—we know that people have learned that it is always safe to buy here, and as long as we know we are serving the people best we feel that we are filling the mission that is expected by to cement-users. Write for a copy today.

"Chicago AA"
Portland Cement is made?

It is a story of great interest to the man who uses cement. It tells how the raw materials are taken from the quarries, how they are weighed, proportioned, crushed and conveyed to the mills; it describes the "Chicago AA" process of drying, grinding and then burning the raw mixture to a "clinker" and explains, in an interesting way, the method of cooling the "clinker" and grinding and re-grinding it, thus producing "Chicago AA" Portland Cement, "the best that can be made."

Read this story: It will enable you to better appreciate the superiority of the "Double A" brand—it will guide you in the selection of a cement for your work in the future.
